ALAMEDANS' HEIRS TO MILLIONS

Louis Leiser, Plumber, and Family, Will Step From Cottage to Marble Halls

Encinal City Residents Are Chief Claimants to $40,000,000 Left by Baron

ALAMEDA, July 17.—In a tiny five-room cottage at 2251 Lincoln avenue which houses Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leiser and their six children, there is an air of expectancy of impending good fortune which the news that the family has the first claim to an estate of $40,000,000 in government bonds in England has effected.

Eeking out a scanty livelihood for himself and family in the plumbing business, Leiser is joyous and elated over the alluring prospect of having a fortune of millions at his command, and his family is sharing his natural happiness. So sure is the family of its claim that investments have already been found for the stupendous fortune, to which, according to one of the claimants, there are, but six other heirs outside of the Leiser family.

STRIKES AWE.
The overwhelming wealth struck awe in the heart of the Leiser family when the fact that they were likely to inherit a goodly part of it became known to them through attorneys in England, who represented the family.

The enormous fortune was accumulated through large land purchases by Baron Adolphus Von Leiser, whose sudden death three months ago plunged the claimants to the estate into a controversy which is pending. The Baron left no will. The legal controversy carried on by the heirs is a friendly one, and is expected to be settled amicably within the division of the estate in two months.

IS A PLUMBER.
Louis Leiser, a cousin of the deceased money baron, is a plumber, being 53 years of age. Three years ago he retired from active business, which is now being transacted by his son, under the name of Louis Leiser & Son. The members of the Leiser family, who are joint heirs to the fabulous estate are Mr. and Mrs. Leiser, Martin, Adolph and Philip, Mildred, Augustus and Helen Leiser, and three married daughters, residing in San Francisco. Other heirs live in Germany, England, New York, Denver and Iowa.

Attorneys have been engaged by Miss Henrietta Beinstein, one of the heirs living in Layton, to represent the family interests in England. Miss Helen Leiser, one of the daughters of the household, spoke assuredly of the wealth that the family expected to be turned over to them in short while.

"We expect the legal side of the question to be settled within two months," she said. "Our relatives in Germany are looking after our interests. Of course, we are overjoyed. We have never had any money and we would welcome even a small fortune. We cannot realize that we are soon to have millions. The money is all in government bonds, which are the safest kind of security. The money has been accumulating in the family for more than three hundred years."

The bolt melted the bowl of a spoon she was holding in her hand, and a mark was made on her body. She was unconscious for some time after the accident.

'JACKPOT' UP FOR PROBE

Duluth Man Declares Wiehe Confided He Had Subscribed $10,000 to Fund

Electrician Was Stranger, but Hines' Associate Proceeded to 'Set Him Right'

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The $100,000 legislative "jackpot" about which revolved charges affecting the election of Senator Lorimer, figured in the testimony at the opening of today's hearing before the Senate Lorimer committee.

William Burgess, manager and treasurer of an electrical company at Duluth, Minnesota, testified before the Helm investigating committee of the Illinois Senate that on a train running out of Duluth about March, 1911, C. F. Wiehe, who is associated in business with Edward Hines, declared to him that "there was a 'jackpot' raised to elect Lorimer. I know what I am talking about because I subscribed $10,000 to it myself."

Burgess testified today about this conversation. He said he and Wiehe had not met before that day. They began conversing in the smoking car. Burgess said he made a remark about the Lorimer election, which finally led the stranger, whom he said, was Wiehe, to remark that "Burgess did not know very damn much about it."

TELLS OF 'JACKPOT.'
Shortly afterward, according to the witness today, Wiehe said:

"There was a 'jackpot' for Lorimer's election. I know what I am talking about, because I subscribed $10,000 to it myself."

In his letter General Oliver made a strong plea for such State legislation.

Panama-Pacific Exposition Directors Hope to Settle Location of Fair

Rumors That a Deadlock May Still Further Delay the Choice

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The directors of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company began their meeting at 11 o'clock this morning to determine, if possible, the important question of the fair site.

Despite previous promises and intimations that today would bring a decision, rumors have been going the rounds that a deadlock will prevent a determination of the matter at today's session.

There is a possibility, however, of the settling of the question, and the anxious public is awaiting the outcome. The fact that the directors met promptly and proceeded to get down to business at once with the filing of reports and the reading of opinions may be taken as indicative of their desire to reach a speedy determination, and it is possible that one side or the other may have won over certain doubtful ones as to allow of a decision as scheduled.

Berkeley Wants Fair Site Located on the Water Front

BERKELEY, July 17.—A letter has been addressed to the Panama-Pacific exposition directors by Secretary Drury of the Berkeley chamber of commerce urging that a site for the exposition be selected on or near the waterfront of San Francisco, in order that the exposition may be reached by direct ferry service from points on the eastern shore of the bay. The letter says:

"You are respectfully requested to give due consideration to the importance of choosing a site for the Panama-Pacific exposition that is on or near the bayshore.

"It is respectfully submitted that the financial success of the exposition is of prime consideration, and this end may be best served by locating the exposition at a point that is accessible to the greatest number of people at the minimum of cost and effort. A site on the bayshore would meet this requirement.

"You are aware that in order to achieve success you must place the exposition where thousands will be attracted to pass through the turnstiles many times. You are sure of the majority of those who are domiciled in San Francisco, no matter which site is chosen. Your problem, then, is to locate the exposition so that those hundreds of thousands living outside of San Francisco (inhabitants of Alameda county, Marin county, and all that may reach San Francisco from the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys by boat) shall be induced to visit the exposition many times. The way to accomplish this end is to choose a site on the bayshore. Direct ferry service between the east bay points and the valley communities will land passengers at the exposition gates, and the same people will go many times. If the exposition is sequestered in some inland nook where it is difficult of access it will be impossible to command the same volume of patronage.

"Viewing the premises solely from the standpoint of public policy, your honorable body is giving these considerations due attention, and that if you deem the point well taken, that you select a site on or near the bayshore for the Panama-Pacific exposition."

As the car swung away and Nokes drew forth his hand, he almost fainted from exhaustion, and was taken to the Potrero Emergency Hospital, where his injuries were dressed. HORNER MAY GET THE PLUM

Supervisor Appears to Be Most Likely Successor of Assessor Dalton

Vacant County Office Will Probably Be Filled This Afternoon

Up to 1 o'clock today the Board of Supervisors had elected no successor to Henry P. Dalton, formerly assessor of Alameda county, who forfeited his office under the operation of the law, and who is now in the county jail as a prisoner because of his conviction on the charge of accepting a bribe of $5000 from the Spring Valley Water Company.

The matter, in fact, did not come before the board for the reason that it was mid-day before all the supervisors had assembled, most of them having spent the morning discussing the proposed appointment with candidates and hosts of interested friends.

POSTPONE ACTION.
At the hour mentioned the supervisors opened in business session for the purpose of transacting the routine business of the county.

It was decided at that time that the election of a successor to Dalton would be deferred or at least the consideration of the matter would be deferred until this afternoon.

There was filed with the board, however, a legal order setting forth the proceedings in Judge Brown's department of the Superior Court in the conduct of the trial of Dalton on the charge of bribery in the sum of $5000, which was shown to have been received by the ex-assessor from the Spring Valley Water Company.

The document also showed the conviction of the accused and the forfeiture of his office under the statute. The order was signed by Judge Brown.

This will be taken into consideration by the supervisors as the first step in the movement to replace the imprisoned officer by another citizen of Alameda county.

MAY BE HORNER.
An impression obtains that the appointment of Dalton's successor will go to Supervisor Horner of the First Supervisor district. There are a number of other candidates for the position and some of them are being advocated by other supervisors of Horner, but there seems to be a probability that if Horner insists upon securing the place that it will be given to him practically by the vote of the other members of the board.

The most prominent candidate for the position of supervisor to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Horner as assessor is Daniel J. Murphy of Livermore. In the event of Murphy succeeding to the vacancy, his appointment would come from Governor Johnston, who, it is said, is now in the vicinity of this city, and to whom an appeal may immediately be made for the purpose of making the appointment.

AMONG OTHER CANDIDATES.
Among the other candidates for Dalton's position are Supervisor Mullins, who has been urged to aspire to the place by a number of influential people in this city as well as by others in humbler walks in all parts of the county; Supervisor Bridge has as a candidate A. Zorbach, a well known retired merchant of Fruitvale; City Assessor George Gross, County Auditor Ed Garrison, Chief Deputy County Clerk Andrew Johnstone, George Schmidt, former postmaster in Berkeley; John J. Mort, former assemblyman and recently county recorder of this county; Clarence S. Merrill, postmaster of Berkeley; Francis Ferrier, George Stricker and Walter F. McCure. The last four also being from the university town are anxiously seeking the position. The last mentioned candidate is the special favorite of Supervisor Foss of Berkeley, who has been working earnestly for his success.

SALARY OF $7000.
The position of assessor carries with it a salary of $7000 per year, together with patronage amounting to many thousands. The assessor gives employment to forty or fifty deputies and clerks, both within and without the office. In anticipation of the appointment of a new assessor, or of the consideration of candidates for the position the rooms of the board of supervisors this morning was filled with representatives of almost every section of Alameda county.

Among those mentioned were Assemblyman Robert Callaghan, Senator Edward Strobinger, former Supervisor John Mitchell of this city, now a member of the State Board of Equalization; Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange.

BADEN HAS RAILWAY HORROR

Through Express From Basel to Berlin Jumps Track at Mullheim

Cars Crowded With Tourists Telescopes, With Many Fatalities

MULLHEIM, Baden, Germany, July 17.—A through express from Basel, Switzerland, for Berlin, crowded with a heavy tourist traffic, was wrecked here today. Eleven persons are known to have been killed, while scores of others were injured, many of them seriously.

Great confusion followed the accident and it was with difficulty that the extent of the disaster could be determined. Up to this evening the dead had not been identified, and it was impossible to learn whether there were Americans among the victims.

The accident occurred as the train, coming from the south, was entering the station. The locomotive was derailed and was followed from the tracks by four cars, a first-class, a second-class and two third-class coaches. These cars telescoped each other. At the same time the remaining cars were thrown to the opposite side of the track and piled up against a train standing on a southbound rail. Not a passenger in the first three coaches of the train escaped injury.

The people of the little resort appear to have been stunned by the magnitude of the disaster, which has been equaled in recent years only by the accident at Mullheim-Krhein on March 30, 1910, when twenty-two persons were killed in a collision.

Tonight it was found that the dead numbered only three have been identified. Most of the survivors are from Basel and Wiesenthal. So far as can be ascertained, there were no Americans injured.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Senator Terrell of Georgia ceased to be a member of the United States Senate at 11:20 a. m. today. Acting on his telegraphic resignation, President Woodrow Wilson this morning ordered that Terrell's name be stricken from the roll of the Senate, leaving his seat vacant until Governor Hoke Smith qualifies as his successor.

Senator Terrell's telegram read: "My successor as United States Senator was elected by the Legislature of Georgia last Wednesday. It is my opinion that this election terminated my term of office, but to remove all doubt I sent my resignation last Friday to Governor Smith and mailed you a copy of the same. This resignation is irrevocable and I have so notified Governor Smith. I will be glad for you to instruct the Secretary to strike my name from the roll of Senators."

MAKES A PLEA TO HAVE PEACE

J. F. Williams Wants the People and Traction Company to Get Together.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Permit me to make a few remarks to the people of Oakland and vicinity on the subject of the controversy between the Oakland Traction Company, a few people on Twelfth street and our city officials. In the first place it is to be regretted that our city officials should be drawn into this question, for the reason that in no other city has there been less friction between traction interests and city officials than in our beautiful city. There has always been a "get together" spirit. There has always been a spirit of frankness and helpfulness. Every effort should now be made to continue to cultivate this spirit of mutual respect, so much concern and benefit alike to the public, investors, to the laboring man, to the traction company and to its employees. To encourage cordial and friendly feeling on the part of the public toward the traction company and their policy. The time has come when hasty and unwarranted municipal action toward traction interests should not prevail. Reforms may be necessary, but before being applied they should be carefully considered and solely from the one standpoint, the welfare of the general public. Careful investigations should be made by our city officials and as in the case of the Senate and the House on the Twelfth street franchise, which is a very old one, if there is found to be uncertain and ambiguous language, their rulings should be made in a spirit of fairness, good will, common sense and with a view to give the general public the benefit of any doubt and not unnecessarily hamper the traction company in the conduct of its business. The public interest in proper traction operation is not difficult to measure. The Oakland people ought fully to realize in what their own material interests consist. It is the duty of the traction company to make its service at all times as efficient as possible and to increase and desirable traveling facilities are granted by the company it should be supported and not condemned. Personally I am of the opinion, and it is based on careful investigation, that there are many thousands of decent law-abiding citizens in this city who welcome and approve the traction company's plans to better their service and heartily disapprove far-fetched technicalities leading toward harmful abridgment of its rights. Let us encourage that company—let our good citizens stand behind it and vigorously voice its protest against a program that will only mean inconvenience to the traveling public and bring disaster to the industrial activities of Oakland. Oakland is no longer a village. It is now the most rapidly growing city on the coast. To throttle its growth would be a crime and that crime will certainly be committed if our most vital facility, our street car service, is curtailed, unjustly hampered and the traction company's progressive plans are relegated by application of antiquated theories and narrow construction of franchise rights. No possible good can come if our city fathers maintain a mistaken policy of technical obstruction. Nothing but discouragement and discontent will follow. I call upon all good citizens who agree with me to go to work, immediately, to at once interest themselves in this vital subject and by well directed effort communicate direct by mass meetings or through the public press to our city officials, that important voice, public opinion. Let the slogan be: Reasonable concessions, fair treatment, if for public benefit. JOHN F. WILLIAMS, Taxpayer, Oakland, July 17, 1911.

DELAY IN FILING CITY ESTIMATES

Complicated Conditions Make Postponement Necessary in Charter Demands.

Complicated and new conditions created in the various departments by the change to the new system under the new charter have made it impossible for the department heads to complete their department estimates for Commissioner of Revenue and Finance John Le Baillet. The estimates were to have been filed today, but as they were not ready the time was extended for three days. When the estimates are in they will be gone over by Commissioner Forest and carefully pruned. Then they will be submitted to the council with his recommendations, and with the assessment rolls from the auditor's office, will form the basis for fixing the tax for the coming year after the adoption of the budget.

Deadlock Inevitable Over Direct Election

Question of Federal Supervision Added by Senate Will Tie Up Conference.

CONTRACTORS GET TIME EXTENSION

Commissioner Anderson Gives 150 Days Additional for Wharf Work.

Delay in starting work on the Livingstone street wharf due to the controversy over the title to the land which forms the approach is given by Clifton Jones, the contractor doing the work, as a reason for asking an extension of time. The extension asked is for 150 days. The contract called for the completion of the work within 150 days after granting the permit to go to work, issued by the board of public works. This permission was not given until June 20, and the delay in starting the work is the reason for asking an extension of time. The matter was referred to Commissioner of Public Works Harry Anderson.

"The law of Wisconsin requires candidates to file statements of their expenses," added Mr. Reed, "yet one of them sits in this body today who admitted having spent $107,000 to secure votes in the primary election. If that is not a bar to his holding a seat in the Senate it ought to be."

This reference was to the statement of campaign expenditures filed by Senator Stephenson after his recent election. Senator Stephenson was in his seat in the Senate today for the first time since the filing of the request of the Wisconsin legislature for an investigation into the manner of his election.

CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY BILL CALLED UP IN THE SENATE

Senator Stephenson's $107,000 Vote Fund Is Unpleasantly Discussed by Several of His Colleagues

WASHINGTON, July 17.—"A law that simply requires a man to report what money he spent to get into the Senate virtually endorses his right to buy his election," declared Senator Heyburn of Idaho today when the Senate took up the campaign publicity bill.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts declared that the whole purpose of a publicity law is to let the public know exactly what money is spent and how it is handled; that the "theory is that money publicly accounted for is properly spent."

The bill as it passed the House requires publicity of campaign expenses not only after election, as at present, but also during the fifteen days before election. The Senate committee's proposed amendments would extend the publicity to primary elections and force candidates to publish their promises to their campaign supporters. Senators Sutherland and Burton secured adoption of an amendment broadening this paragraph so that candidates must report all promises made by any one who has been given authority to act for the candidate. Senator Root said all Senators knew there had been much corruption in elections throughout the country.

DALTON'S FATE TO BE TOLD TOMORROW

Former County Assessor Will Appear for Sentence in the Morning.

At Conference Today Will Decide on Course He Will Take.

Former County Assessor Henry P. Dalton will appear tomorrow morning at 10 before Superior Judge Everett J. Brown for sentence. The penalty for the crime of bribery, of which he has been convicted in connection with accepting $5000 in his official capacity from the Spring Valley Water Company, ranges from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary, and there was much speculation today in county government circles as to the length of the term Judge Brown will impose upon the convicted man.

Dalton has consistently refused to see anybody at the county jail, with the exception of members of his immediate family, his attorneys and a limited number of his most intimate political and official associates. The jailers report that he is an ideal prisoner. He sleeps and eats well and maintains a cheerful, hopeful demeanor, showing absolutely no traces of the ordeal of his trial and conviction.

The members of the legal battery that handled Dalton's defense had not decided upon a late hour this afternoon on the course they will take tomorrow when their client appears for judgment.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE

Attorneys Gehring & Wyman announced this morning that there would be a conference with Dalton same time late today, but not before, because of Attorney Charles H. Fairall's inability to get away from San Francisco until evening, when it would be decided what to do. It is safe to say, however, that the usual motive for a new trial will be made. If this is denied, which seems altogether probable, a motion in arrest of judgment on some ground may be entered.

Should this be overruled and the court's judgment of the privilege of entering a notice of appeal will still remain open. This, however, would not delay the passing of sentence. If the appeal is taken Dalton will make a hard fight to secure his liberty on bond pending the final judgment of his case. The appeal, and this would lie entirely within the discretion of the court. The Penal Code leaves the matter of bonds of this character open for the court to pass upon.

ORDER TO BOARD

Judge Brown this morning directed Rudolph, the criminal department of the Superior Court to deliver a copy of the judicial order of Dalton's conviction to the Board of Supervisors. The official information and guidance, and also required that a copy of the order be spread upon the minutes of the board.

The second case against Dalton, which is based upon the grand jury indictment charging him with asking for a bribe of $25,000 to reduce the assessment of the property of the Board of Supervisors, is on the calendar of the criminal department of the Superior Court for Thursday. It is expected that the Board of Supervisors will ask for a continuance of this case from time to time and eventually have dismissed it. Dalton's appeal from the judgment in his present conviction. The latter may appeal any time within six months from the date of judgment, and the second case will be carried on the docket for that period at least.

WIEHE TOLD HIS TALE TO STRANGER

Wm. Burgess Testifies He Was Told About $100,000 Jackpot.

a perfect stranger should make a confession to me," asked Senator Kern. "I always did. That was the reason I asked who the man was when we got off the train."

An affidavit was submitted by Wm. H. Cook of Duluth, whose versions of conversations with Edward Hines have been disputed by Hines. Burgess said he had talked with Cook about coming to Washington to testify in Chicago in 1909.

"Didn't he say 'give 'em hell'?" inquired Attorney Hines. "He did not."

Burgess declared that C. F. Wiehe said $100,000 was raised to elect Lorimer, but Senator Kern had asked why he did not tell that to the Helm committee and suggested that he might have got the ideas from the newspapers subsequently. Burgess told the committee he was not certain whether Wiehe had said "a jackpot" had been raised to elect Lorimer, or whether $100,000 had been raised.

Air affidavits were taken at the afternoon session. It declared that during the train of conversation Wiehe said a detective employed by Editor Kohlsaat had confessed to Father Green that he was employed to "get trumped-up" charges against Lorimer.

SUBSTANCE OF IT

Hynes asked why the witness did not mention "trumped-up" charges today in his direct examination.

"I don't know," responded the witness. "I cannot say what he used the words or not but that was the substance of it."

Henry Turrish of Duluth was the next witness. He said he and W. H. Cook were present during a conversation with Hines in Chicago in 1909.

"I said," declared Turrish, "I supposed Senator Stephenson being a lumberman, was all right, and Hines replied, 'No, Stephenson is an uncertain quantity.'"

Herman H. Hattler, president of Herman H. Hettler Lumber Company of Chicago, was the next witness.

Hettler, who admitted there had been ill-feeling between Hines and himself, repeated his statement before the Helm committee that Hines at the Union League Club of Chicago, had asked if he (Hettler) knew the name of the new senator, and that Hines then added: "I elected him; I did it myself personally."

"It was the formation of his sentence which caused it to be impressed on my memory because I considered it quite significant," declared Hettler.

SANTA ROSA INQUIRY IS RESUMED IN SOUTH
Oakland Woman Declares Captain Faria Acted Like Six-Year-Old Child When the Ship Struck

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—"I saw nothing out of the way in the action of the officers either before or after the Santa Rosa went on the rocks," said Mrs. Gough, formerly a second-class electrician on the warship South Dakota, testified that he thought the sea too rough for the passengers to be taken ashore at any time. He had no complaints to make against the officers.

Mrs. A. G. Follows stated she thought the captain should have taken the passengers ashore when they asked him. She declared nearly all of the officers smelled strongly of liquor. Yet when she tried to obtain some whiskey for her mother, who was chilled, she said she was told there was none on board. Later, however, she was given a small flask. Mrs. Follows said the sea was so smooth in the forenoon that she could have rowed ashore had she had a rowboat.

Mrs. Cora Varley, of Oakland, was on a lift raft which capsized. She was swept under the waves four times, she said, and then lost consciousness, knowing no more until she was revived by physicians ashore.

"Captain Faria acted like a six-year-old child," she declared.

Miss Jessie Flaherty, of Long Beach, said she thought the captain was very nervous. She testified that she had seen no officers drunk nor discourteous. She thought there had been too much delay in getting the life lines ashore.

Brady added, in response to a question concerning suits for damages, which the survivors were said to be planning against the company, that he would be satisfied if he were accorded "reasonable damages in a reasonable time."

PLUMBERS AND TINNERS AT FRESNO ON STRIKE
FRESNO, July 17.—The plumbers and tinnners of Fresno are on strike today as a result of the failure of employers to comply with demands for an increase in wages. The union men asked for $5.50 per day with a half holiday. About 70 men are involved. The demand was made four or five weeks ago, and employers were given until July 15 to answer. No answer was received today and the strike was the result. A conference will be held today. It is hinted at labor union headquarters that the carpenters and painters may join the strikers.

DANCING CLUB'S PICNIC SUCCESS

More Than 500 Attended Yesterday's Outing at Shell Mound Park.

The fifth annual picnic of the Original Gaelic Dancing Club, held at Shellmound park yesterday, was one of the biggest successes of the year in Irish circles, more than 500 people from all the bay cities attending the outing, which was made doubly enjoyable by the various Irish and Scotch costume dancing, the athletic games and other contests.

Mayor McCarthy of San Francisco, who was honorary referee in the athletic events, given under the rules of the Pacific Amateur Athletic Association of the United States, gave an address.

Misses Clara Coyne and Frances Keith and Dan Cotter and P. J. Keefe danced the four-hand reel and jig. A special jig and dance was given by Miss May O'Connell and Master David O'Connell. A Scotch Highland fling and reel followed by Misses Eileen Keane, May Rogers, Robert Murray and Duncan Hall was a winner. A special exhibition of Gaelic dancing, in which many took part, was the crowning dance event. Dancing continued until 7 p. m.

ATHLETIC EVENTS.

The main athletic event, a one-mile run won by H. A. Benson, P. A. C., who also was winner at the letter-carriers' picnic two weeks ago. E. P. Craig really finished first, breaking the track record by covering the mile in 4:40, but he was ruled out for fouling H. M. Williams, who ran second.

E. S. Best, Olympic, captured the 176-yard dash in 0:19-1-5. H. M. Acton was second. C. A. Hoensch third.

44-yard run—C. A. Hoensch, first, 1:56-4-5; H. M. Acton, R. W. Robinson, 1:58-4-5; H. M. Acton, A. L. Kurtz, O. C., first, 1:11; William Greer, H. B. Stale.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS

FALL BELOW LEVEL

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—Manager F. B. McKevitt of the California Fruit Distributors states that shipments of fruit from this State so far this season have been disappointingly small. On July 4, 1911, the total shipments amounted to 2460 cars. On the same day this year the total has only reached 1193. Allowing for 100 more cars, owing to the increase of the minimum from 25,000 to 26,000 pounds, would give a total of 1300, as compared with 2460 last year, or little more than half. Owing to this very considerable shortage there has not been enough fruit to go around, practically every market requesting supplies which it was impossible to furnish.

The shipments during the past week were as follows: Cherries, 7 1/2 cars; apricots, 8 cars; peaches, 80 cars; plums, 184 cars; pears, 60 cars; grapes (first of the season), small shipments; cherries and apricots, practically none. The peach crop will be smaller than anticipated.

GIRL IN PANIC AT WEIRD EXPERIENCE

Finds Mysterious Malady of Years' Standing Caused by Parasite.

Pretty Maid Horror Struck at Sight of Growsome Monster.

A recent statement by Prof. J. M. Munyon, the famous health expert, relative to the prevalence of a queer disease here, notably that of tapeworms or internal parasites, has aroused much interest and now seems to be borne out by facts. One young woman brought into Munyon's headquarters at the Owl drug store, in the Phelan building, a tapeworm that measured probably 60 feet in length. She said:

"Under no circumstances will I allow my name to be published in connection with this matter, but I will say that I have suffered for years from what several doctors told me was chronic stomach trouble. I was weak and 'all run down' most of the time, and I had a dull, gnawing pain in the pit of my stomach which tormented me. I seemed to be growing abnormally nervous; I would have fits of temper which I could not understand myself, and really natural sleep became a stranger to me. This was further complicated by pains in my back and sides, dizziness, headache and periods of awful mental depression. I consulted many doctors and it seemed they treated me for every disease they could think of, but I never got any better. I found it impossible to take any interest in life and thought I was suffering from some mysterious incurable disease.

"Well, it was mysterious, but not incurable. Although I had practically no faith whatever that I would receive any benefit, I finally decided to take Professor Munyon's treatment. His doctor, who talked with me, seemed to take so much interest in my case that somehow I began to have hope.

"Within a short time after taking his medicine I discovered what had been ailing me for so many years—almost all of my young girlhood. I was the victim of a monster parasite, the most terrible looking thing I had ever seen in my life. I was much frightened and hastened up here, where I was told it was a tapeworm. Positively, I was in a panic at the mere thought of the thing.

"It is a delicate subject for a girl to discuss, but after thinking it over at length I have decided that it is a duty to the public to tell the truth. I know the nature of the awful thing that sapped my vitality for so long. For I know that many other persons must be afflicted in the same manner. I was—and I would have gladly thanked any person who could have told me of this years ago."—Adv.

ABOLISH SPEED LIMIT IN FRANCE

New Road Regulations Leave Pedestrian to Care for Himself.

PARIS, July 17.—The commission appointed to consider the new road regulations has drawn up a code, which, however, must pass parliament before it becomes operative.

There are three main points in the new rules. Vehicles must keep to the left instead of the right, pedestrians must yield passage to vehicles and the speed limit is abolished, though drivers must keep control of their speed and must not go so fast as to damage roads.

PUBLIC WORKS OFFICER ORDERS INVESTIGATION

VALLEJO, July 17.—Declaring that the city was mulcted out of large sums of money by paying excessive and illegal rates for rights-of-way along the path of the new municipal reservoir, James McCauley, commissioner of public works, has ordered an investigation of the records of all the property affected. A research made at the titles of the property in at least four cases shows that the city paid for the rights-of-way along its own street. Carelessness on the part of the old city officials is given as the reason for allowing the fraudulent claims to slip through uncaught.

POCKET EDITION OF FAMOUS PINAFORE SONG AT IDORA

ERMA GAGE with the extravaganza at Idora Park.

"Pinafore, Jr.," a vest-pocket edition of the famous Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera, drew vast crowds to Idora Park Saturday and Sunday. The tabloid extravaganza is a revelation in staging and good work, and the skit chorus so well drilled that many a hitch marked the first-night production Saturday. From curtain to curtain the thing goes with a snap and a zing that has come to be the ear-mark for the hippodrome entertainments that the big park is providing these days. The argument of the compressed Pinafores follows:

As in the original version of the well-known score of "Pinafore," the opening scene of "Pinafore, Jr.," is laid aboard ship. Ralph Rackstraw tells the crew of his determination to make known his love for the captain's daughter, Josephine. This resolution comes upon the eve of a visit from Sir Joseph Porter, the purpose of which is to officially announce his, Sir Joseph's engagement to Josephine. Sir Joseph's arrival is awaited and he sings "When I Was a Lad." During the scene which follows the story progresses and, in its progression, introduces a hornpipe by the crew, a duet between Ralph and Josephine, a wand drill, boxing bout and other interesting features. Subsequently the plot brings the auditor to the point where it is discovered that Ralph is an aristocrat instead of a common sailor, while Josephine's father is, according to Buttercup's disclosures, a lowly birth. This discovery causes Sir Joseph to renounce his engagement and leaves Josephine free to marry Ralph. The extravaganza ends with a rollicking dance of the good old barn floor days.

Carlton Chase polishes the handle of the big front door with vigor enough to make him the Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., of the Idora production. Miss Annie Baumann ably sings her way through Josephine, and Miss Rita Abbott wonders why she was dubbed "Buttercup." Arnold MacDonald is a subdued Dick Deadeye. And there are half a hundred fair sailors, cousins and aunts.

Weber's band is winning friends at the resort with programs that are well mixed combinations of the popular melodies of the classics.

A night at Idora is equal to a week in the mountains, a dozen bottles of tonic or a ton of breakfast food. They measure fun by the acre out there.

YOUTH DROWNS IN WATER OF BAY

Otto Becker Falls to Death Despite Efforts to Save Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Otto Becker, 20 years old, an apprentice employed at the Payne bolt works, was drowned in the bay off the foot of Van Ness avenue yesterday morning. The young man was a member of a fishing party on board the little launch Gussie M., owned by Edward Miller, which was on its way to the fishing banks of Richardson's bay.

Travis Kenyon, a basket manufacturer of 318 Duncan street, came near losing his life in attempting to rescue Becker.

Becker was assisting Miller in running the launch and was making his way back to the cockpit from the bow, where he had just raised the American flag, when he lost his balance and fell overboard.

His cry brought Kenyon to his aid. As he reached the sinking youth the latter clung to him, in spite of Kenyon's shouts for him to let go, and both heads went down into the water. Kenyon was nearly exhausted in freeing himself from the drowning youth and trying to get a grip on Becker's neck.

The youth sunk, however, and Kenyon was with difficulty hauled back on the launch. So exhausted was he from his struggles to free Becker that he had to be treated at the Harbor hospital for submersion.

An aged mother, a brother and a sister, who live at 335 Twenty-first street, are left to mourn the loss of the youth.

RISEING TIDE MAROONS FISHERMEN ON ROCKS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—After having spent several hours marooned on Mussel rock, five miles south of the Cliff House, yesterday afternoon, Carl Wolfe and Frank Barner of Daly City, San Mateo county, with their dog, were rescued at 7 o'clock last night by a crew from the South Side life-saving station.

The young men had gone on the big rock at low tide for a fishing excursion and did not realize until too late that the rising tide had cut off their return to the mainland.

INTERNAL STRIFE RENDS WESTINGHOUSE COMPANY

NEW YORK, July 17.—An active campaign against the present conduct of the affairs of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has been commenced by Charles G. Canda, a large stockholder of the company, who today has addressed letters to all the stockholders asking them to send their proxies to George Westinghouse of Pittsburgh. Mr. Canda asserts that the company is earning dividends and that they should not be withheld from the stockholders. Four new directors to the board are to be elected at the meeting to be held July 23.

MASKED ROBBERS MALTREAT WOMAN

Beat Her With Their Fists in Unsuccessful Effort to Secure Jewels.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Attacked by two masked men while alone in her apartments at 2803 Folsom street, early Saturday evening, Mrs. Nels Rasmussen succeeded in keeping the robbers at bay even after they had struck her over the head and threatened her with a baseball bat if she would not tell them where her valuables, consisting of diamonds, valued at $1200, and $200 in cash, were kept.

Mrs. Rasmussen had answered a ring at the doorbell about 6 o'clock, thinking it was her husband, to whom she has been married but two months, or one of her children by a former marriage, Charles, 12 years old, and Elsie, 14. As she opened the door, one of the robbers grabbed her and held her by the throat while the other ransacked the house. Failing to find the valuables, the men, neither of whom had revolvers, struck her with their fists and threatened her with the bat belonging to her son Charles. Failing in getting the desired information, they finally left at about 6:30, empty handed. Rasmussen arrived home a half hour later and notified the police.

PEAVY GRAIN CO.'S CREDITORS SAFE

Chicago Bankers Arrange for Payment of All Claims in Full.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The affairs of the Peavy Grain Company are now in control of a committee of Chicago bankers following the return of President Hefflinger and C. M. Lane of the F. H. Peavy Company, to Minneapolis. The additional advances made by the banks to hold up the grain company until outstanding commitments could be discharged and "customers and corporations" accounts transferred to other brokerage houses, are said to be comparatively small, and investigation has revealed only a slight variation from the estimated shortage.

Frank O. Wetmore, vice-president of the First National Bank, chairman of the joint creditors committee, said: "The situation remains unchanged and the banks will not lose a dollar through the transaction."

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. E. Bassford, Folesville, Md. For sale by Osgood Drug Stores.

GOOD TIME AWAITS TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION

Coast Printers Have Program of Entertainment Well Advanced.

OAKLAND TYPOS WILL EXTEND A WELCOME

Delegates to Convention Guaranteed True California Hospitality.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—For the first time in its history the International Typographical Union is to meet in the Far West, the fifty-seventh annual convention of the organization to be held in this city the week beginning Monday, August 14. The session will be called to order on the morning of that day by International President James M. Lynch.

The members of the various typographical unions of the bay cities have been looking forward to this event for two years and have prepared an excellent map of entertainment for the visitors, which, in addition to the usual large number of delegates, will include ex-delegates and printers who always attend the yearly gatherings, and their wives, sisters and daughters.

The entertainment features for the third week of next month will be equal, if not superior, to anything heretofore attempted by affiliated unions of the International Typographical Union. The city, bay, Alameda county, Mount Tamalpais, Muir Woods and other places of interest will furnish the visitors with enjoyment long to be remembered. The local committee have their arrangements well in hand.

The International Typographical Union is famous in economic history for its beneficial features. An old-age pension, death benefits, arbitration agreements with employers, a technical school to teach those backward in the trade, all contribute largely to make the union a leader. But above all else, the famous Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs is a worthy institution. Willingly each member of the International Typographical Union pays a small capita each month for the maintenance of this resort for the aged and invalid. It represents approximately an investment of $1,000,000. New buildings are being added continually, and the eighty acres of land are utilized in every way for the benefit of the guests. Here landscape gardening is seen at its best, and vegetables and fruits are grown to perfection. A dairy is maintained, and the twenty-five head of Holsteins have a reputation throughout Colorado.

FIRST CLASS OFFICES TO HAVE POSTAL BANKS

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock yesterday designated the main postoffices in New York, Chicago, Boston and St. Louis as postal savings depositories. They will begin to receive deposits on August 1.

Having installed successfully more than a thousand postal savings banks in second-class postoffices, Hitchcock decided to extend it to some of the first-class offices. The four cities were named because of their great population and commercial prominence and because in each one is located a United States Sub-Treasury, which will facilitate the heavy banking business that is likely to result from postal savings transactions.

As in the smaller cities, the system will be popular with the foreign-born residents, many of whom now send their surplus savings to their home countries. From New York city alone last year the money orders sent abroad for foreign-born residents aggregated $9,000,000.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

The usual cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood which weakens and acidifies this vital fluid, and prevents the proper amount of nourishment being afforded the muscles, nerves and tendons. The pains and aches of Rheumatism may be temporarily relieved by the use of liniments, hot applications, and other external treatments, but the disease cannot be permanently benefited by such measures, and is bound to become chronic and dangerous if such things are depended upon alone. S.S.S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation. When S.S.S. has cleansed and purified the blood the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, and every symptom of Rheumatism passes away. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. DOVE OF PEACE ON DUTY AGAIN AT CANANEA

Civil Government Is Now in Control of Situation and Is Supreme.

SOLDIERS RELEGATED TO THE BACKGROUND

Rioting and Lawlessness No Longer Menace to Life and Property.

CANANEA, Mexico, July 17.—After many days of trouble caused by soldiers who refused to lay down their arms unless large sums of money were paid them, Cananea again is quiet and the civil government is in control. After the people had held indignation meetings it finally was agreed that the soldiers must remain in their barracks or leave their arms there when they go upon the streets. Meetings were held also between the officers and the people and it was decided by the former that they would aid the latter in the re-establishment of order and civil government. Then the police were returned to duty and given back their arms.

The police immediately proceeded to disarm all soldiers who appeared on the streets with weapons. That caused more trouble, about fifty soldiers leaving the barracks and demanding the return of their arms from the police. They finally were persuaded to return to their quarters without arms.

Colonel Juan G. Cabral was selected as "major del plaza" and given charge of the city's affairs. That this action was popular was proved by the enthusiastic reception given him when he arrived in the central part of the city after assuming control.

Captain Miranda, accused of having liberated dangerous criminals in the city jail, left early this morning for the hills.

Young was driving his auto at a moderate speed and stopping it when the accident happened. He took him to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. W. H. Irwin and A. C. Smith attended him. Then Young took Farrar to his home.

VOICE OF REMORSE ACCUSES DENTIST

Warrant Out for Oregon Man Charged With Slaying Woman.

CORVALLIS, Ore., July 17.—A warrant charging murder in the first degree was issued here charging Dr. Edward North, a dentist of Philomath, with the slaying of Mrs. Eliza Griffith. Mrs. Griffith disappeared from her home in Philomath on June 2, her dead body being found concealed in some brush a few days afterward. She was said to have drawn $1000 from the bank the day she disappeared.

North, it is stated, learned Saturday for the first time, that he was under suspicion in connection with the case. He left Philomath the same day, telling his friends he was going to Portland.

While the sheriff and deputy prosecuting attorney will not disclose the nature of the evidence that implicates North, it is learned that suspicion was first directed toward him when a minister at whose house he was staying in Philomath, claims he heard North walking the floor a few nights ago, moaning, "Oh, why did I do it?"

Richard Broomfield, a friend of North, who is a well-known under-bond of $1000, but he has refused thus far to make any statement.

CRUISER HAVING FIRE SYSTEM MUCH IMPROVED

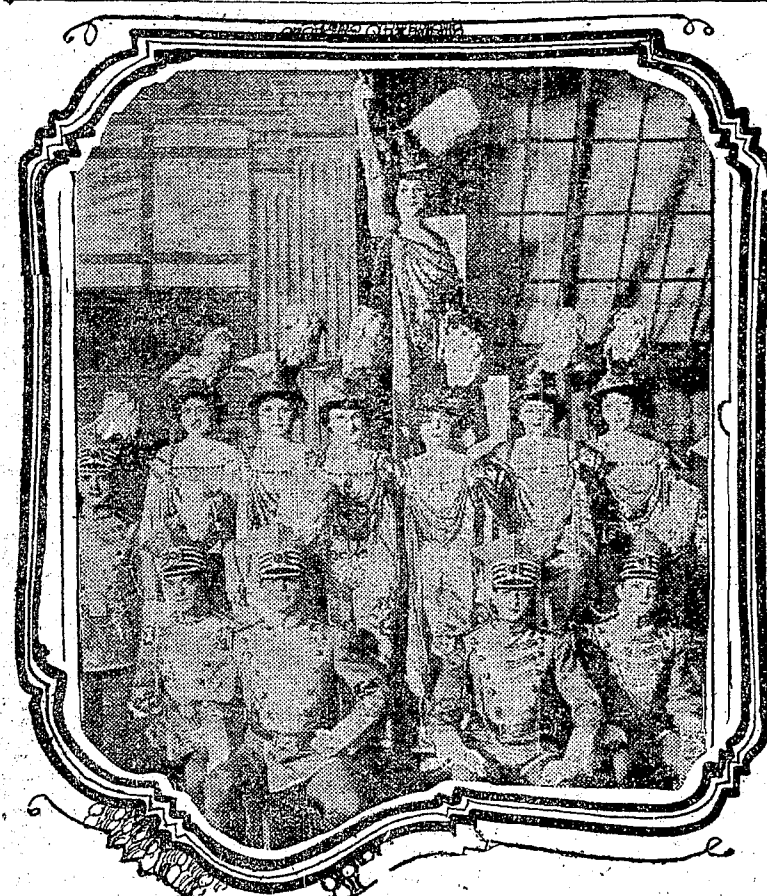

MARE ISLAND, July 17.—The cruiser South Dakota, now at the island, is having a complete sprinkler system for better fire protection installed upon her. A force of men is also engaged in installing an automatic oil feed system for lubricating the ship's machinery. The old mast has been removed and the work on the new military cage masts is well under way.

CURES RHEUMATISM

The usual cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood which weakens and acidifies this vital fluid, and prevents the proper amount of nourishment being afforded the muscles, nerves and tendons. The pains and aches of Rheumatism may be temporarily relieved by the use of liniments, hot applications, and other external treatments, but the disease cannot be permanently benefited by such measures, and is bound to become chronic and dangerous if such things are depended upon alone. S.S.S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation. When S.S.S. has cleansed and purified the blood the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, and every symptom of Rheumatism passes away. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores.

OAKLAND ORPHEUM'S BILL BATHED IN BRIGHT LIGHT

(By LEO LEVY.)

The ups and downs of "In and Out" continue to be the bright light of the Oakland Orpheum's bill. And that despite the radiant suffusing four holdovers, "In and Out" grows funnier every time you see it. It runs the gamut from slapstick farce to cleverness and back again, at the rate of sixty laughs a minute, more or less.

When Homer Mason, as the unexpected guest, talks like a father to his bunch of kids, the scene of the stage ridiculous has been reached. The four-cornered fight that serves as a climax is the best excuse for rough-house farce that has been found in the past season.

We'll stop before somebody who hasn't been lucky enough to see the Orpheum could accuse us of needlessly spilling adjectives ad infinitum, ad libitum, ad nauseum.

There is symmetry to spare in the feminine ranks of "Photo Shop's" chorus, but if Miss Pozing hadn't been in search of a man, yesterday, we sadly fear the condensed musical comedy wouldn't have taken any better than the battery of cameras carried by the chorus men.

Earl Hoschka, who is responsible for numerous melodies in your whistling repertoire, is blamed for the music of "The Photo Shop," but "Send Me a Man," pleaded by Miss Mamie Fleming is about all there is to the musical and the rest of the plot that you can recall today without reference to the program.

Far be it from us to cry down "The Photo Shop" as a blank negative. There are a host of things crowded into the twenty-five minutes between curtains. Sometimes the lines are funny, the tabloid chorus is well-drilled and willing, exposures of stockinged expanses are frequent, snapshots of human nature as seen in a photograph shop are displayed now and then and everybody works hard.

Miss Fleming as Miss Pozing, a girl behind the counter, sings "Send Me a Man" with much earnestness, and being the possessor of qualities that go to make up womanly beauty, found the house willing to answer her prayer. Chas. J. Stine is Daniel Push, manager of a theatrical company which is posing for a photograph, being the excuse for lights in a gallery.

Gene Green's "study in songs" keeps bringing him out for encores. Green is an individual who sings popular stuff like nobody else ever tried to, and better than numerous vaudeville stars dare to. His personality goes hand in hand with his ability, resulting in a popular quickly won and hard to lose.

Two Coleys and Fay, two of them women, resort to minstrelsy and prove that entertainment bounded on the north by a jig, on the south by quartet work of the "Way-down-in-Alabama" variety and on the other two sides by black-face mimes who abuse each other and twist their mouths—"can come back." The Marcel and Boris Trio, with two youngsters as stars, do strong-arm work and acrobatics, with a bit of muscle thrown in, as proof of their ability to draw down a salary from the Orpheum district.

Monthly starlet Edith Lydell and Butterworth and Rousby's scenic review remaining another week, summer need have no dog days for Orpheum audiences. There is so much good in the worst of the program and so much bad in the best of it, that it hardly behooves, etc., with due apologies to R. L. S.

HE REFUSED TO LOWER THE FLAG

CONFESION PUTS LIGHT ON CRIME

Poolroom Proprietor Involves Cigar Broker in Minneapolis Shooting.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 17.—Following a full confession made by A. H. Denson, pool room proprietor, before County Attorney Robinson and police officials regarding his connection with Jerry McCarthy, who recently escaped from the Stillwater penitentiary, who was killed Saturday night by Patrolman Hollister after inflicting mortal wounds on the policeman, Fred A. Briggs, was arrested as being implicated with the outlay.

Briggs is a cigar broker and well known. He was given a hearing yesterday and acknowledged being on intimate terms with McCarthy, but denied being mixed up in any of the latter's shady deals.

The confession obtained from Denson was of a sensational nature and outlined a system of robberies of which he practically accused Briggs of being the brains while McCarthy did the actual work.

SAN RAFAEL FIRE THREATENS STATION

SAN RAFAEL, July 17.—A fire which started in the confectionery store belonging to G. Palastanga and for a while threatened to destroy West station of the Northern Pacific railroad, brought several hundred of San Rafael's residents out of their homes in night attire shortly after 1 o'clock this morning.

The store and its contents, which together were valued at $1200 and were fully insured, were totally destroyed, and the station walls and roof were damaged to the extent of about $300.

While the fire department was effectively fighting the flames some miscreant turned in a false alarm at the corner of Estrella and East Avenues and thus caused a part of the firemen to make a purposeless run of two miles. Further excitement resulted from the falling of live electric wires conveying 60,000 volts among the men who were working a hose to save West End station from destruction.

LAWYER DEMANDS CELL IN PRISON

When Conviction Is Affirmed He Knocks at Gate; But Has to Wait.

TRENTON, N. J., July 17.—After a wait of several hours at the gate of the prison here, Arthur Harry Codington, a sheriff convicted of misappropriation of public funds, finally obtained admission to the institution early today.

Codington learned yesterday that his conviction had been affirmed by the court of appeals and at once set out for the prison to surrender himself. He reached the prison late last night and told the officials that he had been sentenced to serve eighteen months in prison. They declined to admit him, however, until he could produce the usual commitment papers. Codington telephoned to the county officials, explaining the situation, and finally persuaded the sheriff to bring over the necessary papers.

Codington's shortage was made good soon after it was discovered and his petition for his parole is now before the board of pardons.

WOMAN STRICKEN ON GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—Stricken on her golden wedding day, Mrs. Feldhusen, wife of Claus Feldhusen, a pioneer business man of this city, died last Saturday night. She succumbed to an operation performed last Monday, as a last chance to save her life. It interrupted plans for a golden wedding celebration.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST SWELTERS IN THE HEAT

HOT WINDS SWEEP OVER LARGE AREA

Sun Breaks Thermometers in Ardent Attempt to Break Records.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 17.—Reaching a maximum temperature of 103, the hottest day since July, 1905, the government thermometer yesterday came near equalling the heat record for this district, made by 113 degrees in 1896, while several other thermometers were broken by the intense heat. Hot winds from a northeasterly direction blew over the valley throughout the day and at sundown there was no relief, although later in the night the wind changed and the atmosphere cooled considerably. Having already matured by the excellent grain weather this spring, wheat has not suffered much, while harvest is well under way, minimizing any danger from the hot winds.

SPOKANE SWELTERS. SPOKANE, Wash., July 17.—Spokane's heat record yesterday, 99 degrees maximum caused considerable discomfort, as the air was less dry than usual, owing to a thunderstorm early in the morning. The inland empire sweltered, thermometers registering above 100 at nearly all central Washington points.

HOT IN SEATTLE. SEATTLE, July 17.—A maximum temperature of 92 degrees made yesterday the hottest day in Seattle since July 3, 1906, when a maximum of 95 was recorded. No prostration was reported. Thousands of people sought relief from the heat in the cool of the waters of Puget Sound, Lake Washington and the small lakes in the suburbs. One boy was drowned in Lake Union.

PORTLAND WARMS UP. PORTLAND, Ore., July 17.—An unusually protracted hot spell for this part of the country has prevailed here for the past five days, the mercury exceeding 90 degrees here each day, it reaching 97 degrees yesterday, but dropped to 75 degrees shortly after midnight. The humidity has been very low, averaging between 30 and 40. Two or three persons have been overcome for a few minutes by the heat, but no actual prostration has occurred anywhere in the Pacific Northwest so far as can be ascertained. The heat, though unusual, has caused little inconvenience and no damage to crops has been reported.

ALAMEDA MAN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Turns Turtle Over Cliff and He Is Rescued Unconscious.

PESCADERO, July 17.—Frank F. Field, a merchant of Alameda, and his wife and maid were seriously injured in an automobile accident while motoring in the ocean road near here yesterday. The machine in which they were riding toppled over a high cliff near the ocean. Field, who lives at 767 Pacific avenue, Alameda, was driving a Santa Cruz to see his son and was heading Gregory when the front wheel of the automobile hit a rock and sidled. Before Field could apply the brakes the heavy machine and three occupants fell over the cliff, tumbling twice.

The two women were thrown clear of the vehicle in the first turn, but Field who was at the wheel, was pinned in and was carried with the machine to the bottom of the cliff.

Field was summoned from a ranch house owned by M. Lawrence and several farm hands rushed to the scene with ropes. After considerable difficulty the automobile was raised and Field was taken from the wrecked machine. The injured man was removed to the Lawrence ranch house and Dr. A. E. Beach was summoned. Field is suffering from a fractured shoulder, three broken ribs and internal injuries. The two women were severely cut and bruised. Field is in a precarious condition.

DR. AKED BRANDS VOLIVA KISSES 286 REPORT INVENTION BABIES AT STRETCH

Declares Attributed Observations of New Yorkers Were Not Made.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked has sent to the Associated Press the following telegram dated San Francisco, July 17: "The statement in today's papers, said to be telegraphed from New York, attributing to me an offering of $27,500 to the coldness of New York people, is sheer invention, and I am under such lifelong obligation of gratitude to New York that I deplore this paragraph."

CHICAGO, July 17.—After kissing 286 babies, ranging in age from 6 months to 4 years, and consecrating them to the "cause of Zion," Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva, successor to John Alexander Dowie, stood by a barrel in Shiloh tabernacle yesterday and watched his disciples toss $27,500 into it as a "sacrifice offering."

Voliva kissed all of the infants and consecrated them in exactly 48 minutes.

Yesterday was the annual consecration Sunday at Zion City and in the line of men and women that contributed to the "sacrifice fund" were 3319 persons.

MURDER BREAKS IN ON FESTIVAL

Italian Kills, Averring That Victim Ruined His Home.

NEW YORK, July 17.—"He ruined my home," said Giuseppe Romanelli today when arraigned on the charge of killing Alessandro Zarro and mortally wounding Filippo Prosapio. The shooting occurred in an Italian cafe at Hester street last night, while thousands of persons outside were celebrating the annual festival of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. Fifteen policemen had all they could do to get Romanelli out of the station through an angry mob of celebrators.

CHARLIE MEYERS MAY AGAIN 'DRAW ONE'

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 17.—A great deal of excitement has prevailed here owing to the rumor that Charlie Meyers is to reopen his student resort at the end of the University-avenue car line, in the Ravenswood tract, which is just beyond the mile with an interior limit. The Ravenswood tract is an addition to Palo Alto, and is owned by J. F. Parkinson. The people of Palo Alto, as well as the university authorities, are indignant over the fact that Parkinson proposed to allow Meyers to open up business there.

For the last eight years there has been a continual conflict between the university authorities and the saloon men of Mayfield and Menlo Park. They were first driven from Mayfield by the passing of the "mile liquor law," and later driven from Menlo Park by the recent decision of the Supreme Court declaring the mile and a half liquor law unconstitutional. It now looks as though the drama were to be repeated.

OAKLAND MAN WILL ADMINISTER ESTATE

VALLEJO, July 17.—Edward McGary of Oakland has been appointed administrator of the estate of his brother, Jas. McGary, by Superintendent Judge Buckles of the Superior Court. James McGary was burned to death in a fire which destroyed his home near Cordelia about a month ago.

He was one of the best-known of Solano county pioneers.

BARON ROSEN NOT TO RETURN TO CAPITAL

St. Petersburg Confirms Report That Ambassador Will Have Successor.

GEORGE BAKHMETIEFF TO BE NEW OFFICIAL

Russian Noble Will Be Given Seat in Council of Empire.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—The foreign office today confirmed the report that Baron Rosen would not return to his post as Russian ambassador at Washington. George Bakhmetieff is the nominee in view for the American mission. But this appointment, like other diplomatic changes, will await the return in the fall of Foreign Minister Sazonov, who is now in the Vologda region in search of health.

HEAR OF CHANGE.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Although without official advice on the subject the state department has been advised informally of an approaching change in the Russian embassy. Fully intending to return to his post in Washington when he left the city for a vacation in Russia, Baron Rosen found himself drafted into the service of the foreign office soon after he reached St. Petersburg. He was appointed to the post of minister of foreign affairs. For nearly six months now he has been at the head of the department, as well as a man of the imperial council.

'CANNED DRAMA' FOR SERMON

Innovation in Religious Services Crowds Los Angeles Church.

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Motion pictures, such as the down-town theaters bill as "comic," "dramatic" and "pathetic," became a regular part of the Sunday services at Salem Congregational church this morning. A thousand people attended, and a thousand more proved so acceptable that Dr. B. H. Ruppel, the pastor, announced that "canned drama" would be a permanent institution at the church. Three rolls of pictures punctuated the pastor's sermon. One of them was billed as educational, another "elevating." The third was frankly comic.

HISTORICAL PAPERS FOUND IN VALLEJO COURT HOUSE

VALLEJO, July 17.—Interesting historical documents have come to light in the County Recorder's office, in the process of moving the records of the old court house into the new courthouse building. One lot of unusual interest is that of the original correspondence which passed back and forth in 1852, when the government purchased Mare Island for the navy department. For a consideration of $33,493, the old island, with the works and buildings, was sold to the city. The affair was a part of his personal memoirs, from which he told of making the trip from Sacramento by water, when a large part of the country was under water. He came directly across the country from Suisun on a houseboat.

JUDAENS' PICNIC IS LARGELY ATTENDED

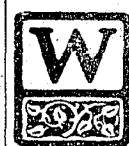

The third annual picnic given by the Judean Society was held yesterday in East Shore Park, Richmond, where several hundred members and friends enjoyed the outing. The affair was the first of its kind undertaken by the organization since the opening of its new headquarters, Fourteenth and Webster streets. The picnic was in charge of the following committee: Louis Snook, chairman; H. Shale, L. Diamond, L. Weiss, A. J. Luchtig, B. Abrams, M. Baker, E. Eisenberg and A. J. Buchman.

SAVED BY PLANK.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 17.—A. J. Roberts, an aeronaut, who started in a dirigible balloon from New York for Philadelphia yesterday, was found unconscious near Deal, N. J., yesterday. When revived, he said that in the night he was forced to pull the rip cord of his gas bag when his gasoline gave out. He was being carried out to sea. He dropped into the ocean, but a plank, which was being towed by a tug, caught him. The dirigible was swept off shore by the wind.

Roberts made a landing about twelve or fifteen miles from New York, and had made another ascension, when his dirigible was struck by a squall and driven over the ocean. His troubles were augmented by a fog which caused the gas in the bag to cool. The dirigible finally trailed in the water, but by throwing out ballast Roberts managed to work it ashore.

Then he found his gasoline dropping. He pulled the rip cord and presently dropped into the water. He was swimming about trying to get his bearings.

FIGHT A FATAL DUEL.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 17.—In an encounter yesterday with officers, Jerry McCarthy, a fugitive who convicted in the walls of the Minnesota penitentiary last March, was shot four times and killed. Patrolman Olinger received four bullets in the body, which caused his death twenty minutes later in the city hospital.

FIRE CAUSES PANIC.

Absence of County Assessor Holds Up This Morning's Meeting; Supervisors Dispose of Few Routine Matters

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session today with Chairman C. F. Horner, and Supervisors Kelley, Bridge, Mullins and Foss present. Owing to the unusual importance attached to the session on account of the assessorship matter, a large lobby was present. The board was not called to order until 12:15 o'clock. Routine matters were disposed of which included reports of the county auditor for the quarter ending June 30, also of the purchasing agent.

Upon recommendation of Supervisor Kelley, the Board of Equalization was not called to order, he explaining that, as the assessor was by law supposed to be in attendance, and as there was not at the time such an officer, the meeting could not be held legally.

Deputy District Attorney Leon Clark pointed out that the board could meet and declare a recess, which was done, the time for the session being set at 2:30 p. m.

In a communication addressed to the board, Secretary Clifton Macon of the

FAILURE TO REPORT CASE HANDICAPS THE POLICE

Death of Mrs. Mabel Dopkus to Be Subject of Rigid Inquiry.

HUSBAND SEEKS TO WREAK VENGEANCE

Ordinance Will End Hospital Habit of Hiding Criminal Cases.

Failure of the authorities at the Merritt hospital to notify the police of the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Mabel Dopkus of 1385 Fifty-fifth avenue, has seriously handicapped the investigation of the case. The woman was taken to the Merritt hospital suffering from the effects of an illegal operation, and to save her life it was necessary to again operate upon her at the hospital. The case was not reported to the police.

When Inspectors James Drew and William Emigh were placed upon the case following a report from the corner to Captain of Inspectors W. J. Peterson, they arrived at the hospital in time to meet Frank Dopkus, the young husband of the dead woman, who was half crazed with grief over her death. He had come to the hospital to wreak vengeance upon the hospital authorities for his wife's death, and the inspectors had great difficulty in explaining to him that the responsibility really rested upon some unknown person who had been called in prior to taking the woman to the hospital.

"GETTING ALONG FINE."

Dopkus stated that he had telephoned and had called at the hospital the day of his wife's death and had been told that she was "getting along fine." At the same time the hospital authorities tried to report the fatal case to the police. Chief Police Albert Wilson is preparing an ordinance which will make imperative by hospitals and physicians the notification of the police concerning cases where patients have been wounded, or where their condition is due to some illegal or suspicious practice.

This ordinance will be presented to Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. T. Johnson for his approval, and will then be introduced in council. After its passage it will be a crime punishable by fine or imprisonment to fail to report traumatic cases to the police where the patients are brought to physicians or hospitals for treatment.

RAPHAEL PLANS REORGANIZATION

Would Repay Depositors of Defunct Bank Through New Corporation.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Believing that the Wilson-Barnes scheme to reorganize the defunct California Safe, Deposit and Trust Company is doomed to failure, Julius W. Raphael, recently appointed receiver, has formed a tentative plan of his own as the result of a meeting of the depositors held last week. His plan involves the forming of a corporation to be known as the Western Pacific Development Company, having a capital stock of $3,000,000, divided into 3,000,000 shares with a par value of $1 per share, this company to take over the assets of the institution and issue an amount totaling $7,674,678.33 as a basis of settlement with the creditors.

It is provided that these creditors shall be settled with on a 20 per cent basis, the amount to be paid for by a stock issue of the company. According to the scheme of Raphael, the assets would be somewhat as follows:

Cash from stockholders in lieu of payment of dividend $500,000.00
Real estate 630,225.00
Loans 425,100.00
Stocks 575,075.96
Overdrafts 33,727.97
Advance to protect loans 33,727.97

Total assets $3,025,176.56

Due to creditors for $7,674,678.33, reduced through settlement to 20 per cent value of their claims, $1,550,642.24.

IS ONLY HOPE.

"The only hope for the depositors is the formation of an industrial corporation. As these assets increase in earning power the value of the stock will increase. The longer the Western Pacific stock is held the higher priced the shares will become."

The future of the resources of the California Safe Deposit Company depends on the depositors. They must either take over the assets of the defunct bank and operate it as an industrial corporation or let the receiver sell out the resources to the bargain hunters. If the receiver closes up the affairs it will be a matter of a 10 per cent dividend on the dollar at the very most as all the depositors can hope to get after the satisfaction of the bonded indebtedness. It means the payment of between $3000 and $40,000 a year to the receiver and his attorneys, in addition to the office expenses.

Raphael advocates the formation of an industrial corporation which shall do its own underwriting in the event that the Wilson reorganization falls completely flat, as he evidently foresees it will. He thinks, with proper husbanding of the better industrial resources of the bank, including the Western Pacific, much may be done to bring to tiduous a thing out of the tangle of the bank's finances.

LANDERS STEPHENS IN 'GREAT DIVIDE' TONIGHT

Tonight opens the summer season at the Macdonough theater with Landers Stevens and George Cooper and the Landers Stevens company in Henry Miller's greatest success, "The Great Divide," by William Vaughan Moody. No play of late years has had such phenomenal success as this, having a successful run of 600 nights in New York to its credit.

Landers Stevens and George Cooper have just returned to Oakland after an absence of two years. Coming here directly from John Cort's Seattle theater, where they met with great success during their six months' engagement, Stevens will be seen as Stephen Ghent and George Cooper as Ruth Jordan.

TWENTY-ONE MINERS MEET DEATH IN GAS EXPLOSION

Caught Like Rats in Trap, Unknown Workers Are Smothered by Deadly Damp Following Fire

DUBOIS, Pa., July 17.—The bodies of the twenty-one victims of the explosion in the shaft of the Cascade Coal and Coke Company at Snyville were brought to the surface today. The large crowd dispersed and there was no excitement about the mouth of the pit. The bodies were not burned and it is quite evident that they died as the result of after-damp.

G. A. Burrell, the chemist with the bureau of mines from Pittsburgh, took a quantity of blood from the body of each victim and will analyze it for the purpose of determining the number of killed by the explosion and the number meeting death by after-damp.

CAUSE IS NOT KNOWN.

Neither mine officials nor mine inspectors are able to assign cause for the explosion, as there are no survivors from which to gain an explanation, but it is the general belief that some of the men drilled into a pocket of gas. The shaft is known as a non-gaseous one, and Fire Boss John Brown reports he was through the heading where the explosion occurred only an hour before and found no trace of gas.

Six men working in another heading of the mine at the time of the accident knew nothing of the explosion until the compressed air drills stopped. They realized something had happened, but did not know the nature of it until they met a party of rescuers coming for them.

RESCUE WORK DELAYED.

The first intimation of the explosion at the surface was when the safety door on the fan blew open and the machinery began to run wild, but it was almost midnight before rescuers could enter the mine. It took some time to get to the scene of the accident, a mile and a half from the opening, because the rescuers were obliged to carry oxygen with them.

All but four of the bodies were brought to the foot of the shaft today, but they were kept there until all were recovered. Four bodies were buried beneath a cave-in in a heading and were not recovered until last night.

ZAM! STUNG! RIGHT ON THE NOSE BY A BEE

HARTFORD, Conn., July 17.—George Seale of Brookline, Mass., has a bad gash in the thigh and numerous other cuts and scratches because he incautiously tried to swat a bee on his nose, while he was driving his automobile at a rapid gait along Saybrook road. He took his hands from the steering wheel involuntarily when the bee alighted on him, and in a twinkling found himself underneath the car. The car was only slightly damaged.

PHYSICAL PROWESS BALKS AT PISTOL

Small Revolver in Hand of Small Officer Cows 230-Pound Belligerent.

An attempt by J. Aune, a husky proprietor of a bicycle repair shop at Sixteenth and San Pablo avenues, who weighs 230 pounds, to resist Inspector William Kyle, the slimmest member of the Oakland bureau of criminal investigation, resulted in a large man coming to grief.

Inspector Kyle was tracing down a stolen bicycle which had been sold to Aune, and the latter, resenting being questioned, offered to throw the police officer out of the shop.

In putting his threat into execution he ran into the cold muzzle of a 38-Caliber revolver, pressed into the pit of his stomach, and when told to march to the police station, he marched. He was booked on a charge of resisting an officer and later released on $100 bail.

ROUGHS HOLD UP SAN FRANCISCAN

Six Men Surround J. L. O'Brien and Steal His Watch.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—J. L. O'Brien of 66 Shotwell street was passing Seventeenth and Folsom streets at an early hour this morning when he found himself surrounded by six young men, who snatched his watch from his pocket, handled him roughly and ran off. He reported the robbery at the Mission station, giving a description of the youth whom he believes actually took the timepiece.

FAREWELL TO BE SAID TO MAYOR FAULKNER

Colonel Sharp with thirty of his officers, will make a special service on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in connection with the farewell of Mayor and Mrs. Faulkner, who are leaving for Chicago this week. The major and his wife have been engaged in connection with the young people's work on the Pacific Coast for the last two years and are now going to Chicago to take up a new branch of work.

Earthquake Faking in Chicago.

The habit of exaggeration is so strong with some of our eastern contemporaries that they must magnify out of all proportion the slightest earthquake shock out on the Pacific Coast. They make a sensational story out of little tremors which do no harm and occasion no alarm. But we are sorry to say that some newspapers in California are addicted to the same habit. In their desire to give their readers something sensational to read and marvel over, they print flaming accounts of trifling and inconsequential occurrences in such a way as to carry abroad the most absurd and mischievous impressions.

But certain eastern journals find earthquake shocks in California a most inviting theme for sensational faking. The destructive tornadoes which spread ruin and death in their own section are treated as a matter of course, as ordinary events. The torrid heat which makes their summers unendurable and the ice and blizzards which make their winters a period of suffering are regarded as inevitable and unworthy of consideration from the news standpoint; they are incidental to a climate that goes to extremes and brings death and calamity periodically to every door. So the journalistic eye is cast abroad for material for sensation; it brightens with delight every time there is a seismic disturbance in this State.

For instance, the last little temblor came in for scareheads and wild-eyed dispatches in the eastern press. Yet there was no injury, whatever to person or property; no disturbance of business activities. Five minutes after everybody was going about as if nothing had happened and nothing had happened but a slight jar that harmed nobody.

Yet the Chicago Record-Herald printed a sensational dispatch a column long ostensibly about this little seismic shock, but in reality a rehash of the sensational and exaggerated stories which were sent out after the temblor of April 18, 1906. A careless reader would think, from perusing this dispatch, that widespread ruin had resulted from the trifling shock last felt in this region. Everything appeared to be tumbling down out here to the Record-Herald; the people were in a panic, business suspended, and damage visible on every side. All because the tremor was utilized as a pretext for retelling in a sensational way the story of the disaster of five years ago.

On the same day the Record-Herald printed this story twenty-two persons died in Chicago from sunstroke. This summer more people were killed in Chicago by excessive heat than have been killed by earthquake in California since its first settlement. San Francisco was nearly destroyed by fire as a consequence of earthquake, but Chicago was burned down because a cow kicked over a coal oil lamp. The cow did to Chicago just what the earthquake did to San Francisco.

But the Chicago newspapers find it convenient to ignore the horrors at home while they chill the blood and raise the hair with wild yarns about events out in California. Nevertheless life is safer here than anywhere else on the globe; the climate is milder and more agreeable than elsewhere, and the danger from earthquake far more remote than the peril from tornadoes and blizzards in the Middle States. People out here do not die of heat and sunstroke; they do not freeze in winter nor suffer the hardships incident to the extremes of torridity in summer and bleak cold in winter. But because the conditions of life are so pleasant out here sensational news-mongers abroad must try to make their readers believe that we dwell amid dangers and are constantly threatened by the mysterious terrors of earthquake.

The Americans down in the City of Mexico who want their Consul General recalled because he did not stand up at a banquet when the band played "America" appear to be in need of instruction. Had "America" been sung there would be reason in their complaint, but the air to which it has been set is the music of "God Save the King." Why should a diplomatic representative of the United States stand up when a band plays the national anthem of Great Britain? The words of "America" belong to this country, but the air is foreign. It is an absurd pretense for us to claim the music of the English national anthem as "America." "God Save the King" is not in our hearts nor our political lexicon. Let us then quit singing our patriotic songs to the tune of foreign royalty.

Dr. Wiley, the government pure food expert, seems to hold to the maxim of the late Tim Sullivan, "What's the constitution betwixt friends?" He seems to think reformers should not be required to obey the law.

What the Taft Administration Has Done.

The Taft administration is to be credited with two notable achievements. It turned a deficit into a surplus and placed the national finances on a sound basis. For the first time in the history of the country the Postoffice Department has been made self-supporting; it has been made to pay its own way and something over. At the same time the service has been improved and a number of minor reforms effected.

The showing contrasts well with the record made by the previous administration. When Colonel Roosevelt became President there was a large surplus in the treasury and the revenues of the government largely exceeded its expenses. When he went out of office the expenses exceeded the revenues, and the surplus had been turned into a deficit. The Postoffice Department showed the largest deficit in its history.

In other respects the Taft administration has made an equally effective showing. The Sherman anti-trust law has been enforced and proved to be an effective means to restrain and control trust exactions and to protect the public from the evils of monopolies artificially created by combinations of capital.

Postal savings banks have been established and are working in a highly satisfactory manner. It will not be the President's fault if Congress at its next session does not authorize a parcels post, which will be a great accommodation to rural communities and effectively curb the rapacity of the express companies. A parcels post has long been demanded, but the common carriers, especially the express companies, have thus far been able to block the establishment of one.

President Taft has labored assiduously and intelligently to extend American trade abroad. He has striven to give American merchants a better field for operations abroad and American products a twister market. As a result of his endeavors the foreign commerce of the United States reached its largest proportions last year. In volume and profit it was a banner year for American trade. The balance in favor of this country was nearly $500,000,000. That is the amount by which our sales abroad exceeded our purchases. No better proof could be given of the healthy condition of our foreign trade, nor of President Taft's wisdom in striving to encourage and extend it.

ENOUGH LAID UP FOR A RAINY DAY

—SAN DIEGO EVENING TRIBUNE.

The Playground a Benefaction.

No more beneficent institution has been brought about by the practical application of philanthropy than the public playground for children. This movement has taken a firm hold in most of the large cities of the country and the result has been of incalculable value for the public good. Country life is, of course, the ideal condition for childhood, but, unfortunately, many thousands of children can never have the pleasures and wholesome environment for the development of their physical being that are to be found in rural districts. They must grow up in the great cities, where out-of-doors recreation is at best a poor makeshift for the freedom of the country life and the wholesomeness of an untainted atmosphere. The State owes it to the rising generation to do what it can to further the well-being of the boys and girls who are eventually to be the men and women of the commonwealth.

The public playground is a step forward, and a long one, too, in this direction. It would well repay any thoughtful citizen to visit one of these playgrounds and note the popularity of the recreation there afforded. These institutions, we take it, are of inestimable value in the moral uplift they effect by the influence exerted in taking the young of both sexes off the streets and out of the noisome alleys of tenement districts, and providing a clean and bright spot for innocent sports.

The little mothers and the little fathers of the poor find in these playgrounds safe refuge for their tiny charges, and that means far more than the heedless citizen is apt to realize. Just the other day in one of Oakland's playgrounds was seen a lad of tender years, but with a face that told of responsibilities that should not have come except with the matured years. He was pushing along a go-cart in which the babe was enjoying an outing. Tagging behind him, but clinging tightly to his blouse were three other little ones, mere infants. The little lad was giving the family a chance for a breath of fresh air and an opportunity for amusement in watching other children at play. He was helping mother, who was at home, with two others that had arrived a week before. That is but one case out of thousands, and to such the public playground is a benefaction, the value of which cannot be measured in commercial terms.

From all appearances Congress will adjourn early in August. The Canadian reciprocity and reapportionment bills will be passed, but little other legislation will get through at this session. The threat of Senator Cummins to prolong the extra session indefinitely with a proposition for a general tariff revision may be dismissed as of small consequence. Cummins has the backing of only a small group of Senators, who are incapable of blocking anything. He can rely on the support of not more than two or three Democrats, while the regular Republicans are arrayed solidly against him.

ENGLAND'S FOOD SUPPLY

England received another warning of an ever-impending national danger during the shipping strike, that tied up thousands of sailors and dockers at her various ports.

Interruption of boat service disarranged the transportation channels, through which the food supply for her great manufacturing centers is brought from the four corners of the globe.

Prices on ordinary commodities, such as "garden truck" and produce, mounted alarmingly. Within a period of a few hours after it became evident that supplies would be below normal demand, dealers took advantage of conditions and commenced boosting prices.

This feature of affairs, however, is not so serious as is the revelation that a thing so comparatively unimportant as a seaman's strike could disarrange the food supply of the entire country.

The situation forcibly recalls the prediction of experts that England would be on the verge of starvation were her coast blockaded for a few weeks.

Agriculture in the islands has degenerated. The system by which wealthy father hands down to son all the acreage inherited from grandfather, together with as much more as he can gather together, has its faults.

Game preserves are pleasant playgrounds for the rich—but they don't feed England's multitudes. A step has been taken toward rescuing Ireland's soil from absentee ownership, to the end that the people may till it and furnish a portion of the food supplies now contributed by the Scandinavian countries.

However, it is doubtful whether intensified cultivation of every available acre in the islands would be sufficient to produce the amount of food demanded for the population. England's millions have grown so tremendously in the past two centuries, such myriads of people have been herded together in her manufacturing cities, that it is doubtful whether the country could support them all.

The situation developed during the strike is an indication of a serious danger that the people now face and which merits close study by the leading men of Great Britain.—Seattle Times.

Bachelor Musings

It is easier to get into trouble with your eyes open than to find your way out. The hardest task some young men cut out for themselves is to live up to their clothes.

GORMAN'S SON AMBITIOUS.

Arthur P. Gorman Jr., son of the late United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman, has given his friends to understand that he will be a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Maryland this summer.

Twenty Years Ago Today

The Athenian club, which for a long time has occupied rooms in the J. H. Bacon block, northwest corner of Broadway and Eleventh street, expects to move into the new Macdonough Theater building, where plans provide for elaborate club rooms.

Among the Oaklanders who are leaving on their summer vacations are the following: Mrs. F. H. Terrill, Mrs. S. B. Harrison, Astronomer Buckhalter, Howard W. Bray, W. A. Bernheim, F. L. Bates, Judge and Mrs. Noble Hamilton, Misses Florence and Alice Jones. Many are also returning this week.

Nearly all the work for the Leland Stanford, Jr., university has been completed at the West Oakland yards and all the woodwork was turned out at these mills.

The Contra Costa Laundry Company has filed new articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The capital stock is $150,000, all of which is subscribed by the following: George H. Hallett and Philip Bartlett, $49.99 each; P. E. Dalton, $50,000, and John H. Griswold and W. G. Hallett, $100 each.

W. W. Slater, the electrician of the Southern Pacific company, has just returned from Salton, where the great inland sea is forming. He says that the water is slowly rising and is four feet deep at the salt works, and all that is left to mark the spot where they once stood are two little black spots two miles from shore.

The bonus for the Hayward Electric railroad is assured. Among those who have contributed $200 to the list are: M. J. Keller, V. D. Moody, Kahn Bros., C. and A. Nordhausen, Salinger Bros., C. Pennoyer, Abrahamson Bros., J. T. Moran, Phelan & Fish, W. A. Runge & Co., Pierce & Co.

Supervisor Bart Morgan has retired from the drug business, having sold out to Marion & Hooper, who will take charge of the store on Market and Seventh streets the first of August.

The appeal from judgment of Judge Hunt allowing Attorney Fred Whitney $3000 fee for services rendered for the absent heirs in the estate of William Wakerley, deceased, has been dismissed. Major Whitney can now draw down his little pile.

The Hopeless Insurgents

Victor Berger, the sole Socialist member of Congress, being a man of education and common sense on general matters, should be able to size up the political situation as between the different parties and factions of importance with a degree of accuracy.

Recently he gave out an interview in Milwaukee which seems to have "hit the nail on the head." So sane a judge as the New York World declares that there has been no "clearer or more comprehensive statement of the national political situation." Mr. Berger said:

"President Taft is stronger than he ever was. He will be re-nominated without serious opposition. The insurgents, by opposing reciprocity, have lost their opportunity and are disintegrating every day. The Democrats have the advantage of position. They say that a Republican President had to call on the Democrats to pass a Republican measure. A year ago it seemed as if Taft was hopelessly unpopular. La Follette was to be put up for President as the leader of the insurgents. It was not expected that he would defeat Taft in the convention, but that with Taft as the Republican nominee it was thought the Democrats would elect a President. If La Follette had been a statesman he would have stood by his guns and retained his following. But he didn't, and now his followers are slipping away from him."

As the World comments, "Nothing more unexpected has ever happened in American politics than the collapse of insurgency of its national leaders. Real insurgency seems to have died with Dilliver."—Augusta Chronicle.

To get the better of an argument always make the other fellow hunt for proof.

CHANCES IN PHILIPPINES

With one exception it may be said that Philippine development schemes have met with a cold reception from the financial interests of America. The repeated failures in promoting or financing any project for the islands must reveal the serious consideration of the Philippine commercial community.

The islands present opportunities for rapid and profitable development unequalled in the world. Rich mineral deposits abound, the forests of valuable hardwoods are inexhaustible, the sugar lands yield a high average, the hemp monopoly is a source of never-ending profit, rubber and gutta percha thrive and give handsome returns.

Yet with few exceptions these immense natural resources after twelve years of American rule are still worked in the old primitive, wasteful manner which marked the industry of a century ago. It is a severe criticism and reflection on American energy which permits such untold wealth to remain undeveloped and is a striking contrast to American enterprises in Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico or Cuba, and to the methods of Europeans in neighboring countries.

Java is a tropical paradise and yields immense wealth to the Dutch investors. Borneo is forging ahead and many large enterprises are in successful operation. The story of the industrial development of the Federated Malay States reads like a chapter from a romance or the Arabian Nights and rubber kings have supplemented the old-time tin millionaires.

Sumatra is famous the world over for its cigar wrappers, and tobacco plantations have spread to neighboring islands. Petroleum abounds and even Shanghai has its quota of millionaires made rich over night, as it were, by the marvelous wells. Indo-China is the rice granary of the Orient and exports its products to the Philippines, and Formosa under Japanese rule, contending with adverse climatic conditions, has developed a modern sugar industry which shames the Philippines and bids fair in time to rival Java.

Not one of these countries can compare in natural gifts with the Philippines, yet they progress and prosper, while the islands fail to keep pace with the procession. It is time for those who have cast their lot with the islands to face the problem, seriously consider the question and try to overcome the difficulties surrounding the investment of American capital in the Philippines and divert the stream which flows so freely into other territorial possessions.—Journal of American Asiatic Association.

THEFTS IN HIGH SOCIETY

London is shocked by disclosures of strange robberies during the coronation festivities. At a ball given by the Duchess of Devonshire one of the guests, Lady Glanville, lost a necklace valued at $60,000. Leaving the opera, Mrs. Moore lost a string of pearls valued at $75,000. Several lesser robberies occurred under circumstances equally mysterious. From the Rohlfs, a steamer reserved for peers and peeresses to attend the naval review, a camera was stolen.

These offenses disturb society much more than any number of robberies committed by pickpockets, burglars or highwaymen. They cannot be blamed upon professional thieves nor upon dishonest servants. All the circumstances of the thefts tend to the conclusion that in each case the thief was a member of the aristocratic circle gathered where the robbery occurred. London faces the strong presumption that among the highest ranks of her most honored society there are men and women who will steal whenever temptation comes to them.

Is there, then, no "noblesse oblige"? Is there nothing in rank or title or station or wealth to make one more honest than the street boy? Has wealth out those accidents of fortune? A duchess will not steal a handkerchief, but if she have the covetous heart and the dishonest temperament it may take something more than a jeweled chain to keep her from "conveying" a priceless necklace.

The story is an old one and the theme is barren of useful lessons. Kipling summed it up: "Nora O'Grady and the Colonel's lady are sisters under the skin." Oftentimes the temptations of bright gems are stronger for the wealthy lady than for the working girl.—New York World.

EXTENDING WOMAN'S WORK

An interesting field has been opened up to a bureau recently organized in New York by a number of college clubs. The object is to find employment that will be suitable for the woman graduate.

It is intended to ascertain whether the field of activities for highly educated women cannot be enlarged. It particularly is desired to offer her opportunities aside from teaching—the eternal refuge of the self-supporting woman possessing collegiate training.

There is a disposition to contract rather than expand the number of occupations in which women are employed. For instance, several large railroads have replaced women stenographers with men. The explanation of the managerial policy is simple, yet significant. Men in charge of the great corporations found the supply of trained workers capable of taking up the intricate and important work of departmental heads decreasing.

The women who, through several years of training, had acquired the necessary education, were just as likely to quit any day—as soon as married. The railroads decided to educate their own workers, in order that the latter might assume positions of trust when the present regime has retired.

The training of female stenographers to male employees in the executive departments was the first step. The new method was more costly, but those inaugurating it maintained that results would justify the expense.

There is a fundamental question in the training of women. The woman who is trained to the point of highest efficiency is a costly enterprise.

The trained man is likely to stay. The woman always looks forward to the time when she shall be at the head of her own home.

The aims of the sexes radically differ. This condition will prove one of the most serious problems that the new Bureau will encounter in its efforts to extend the field of woman's work.—Seattle Times.

JUST IN TIME
Some Oakland People May Wait Till It's Too Late.

Don't wait until too late. Be sure to be in time. Just in time with kidney pills. Before backache becomes chronic; before serious urinary troubles set in. Before the kidneys will do this. Here is testimony to prove it:

Mrs. Mary Cannon, 2014 Tenth St., Berkeley, Cal., says: "Ten years ago I began to suffer from kidney and bladder trouble and the misery I endured cannot be fully described. The trouble must have been in my system a long time, as I noticed the kidneys were not working. I had a pain in my back and often it was so severe that I could not refrain from screaming. I often had to take to my bed, as if the pain were not enough to annoy me, trouble from the kidneys secretions set in. This steady drain weakened my entire system. My complexion became sallow and dark rings encircled my eyes. Headache and dizzy spells were common. I was in despair. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and they proved to be just the remedy I needed. The effects of the first box made me feel like a new person and before long I was cured. I am now in good health and my kidneys are doing their work as they should." (Statement given August 12, 1907.)

A SECOND STATEMENT.
On January 19, 1910, Mrs. Cannon said: "During the past year I have had no need of a kidney medicine. I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and shall always have a word of praise for them."

HILL TELLS HOW TO CURB TRUSTS

Railroad Magnate Proposes Law to Insure Paying Up of Capital Stock.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—"There would be no trusts, in the accepted meaning of the term," said James J. Hill yesterday, "if we had a federal law requiring every corporation to prove that its capital stock is fully paid up before it is allowed to do business in any of our states. That would prevent false inflation of values and the wide sale of stock in enterprises that are not solidly founded."

Regarding crop conditions Hill said he had not been home long enough to get an adequate idea of the situation all over the country.

"From what I have learned, however," he said, "I do not think the whole crop of the country would be sufficient to feed any great degree of animation to the industries of the nation. Along our line conditions are fair, but spotted."

Hill was pleased at the favorable turn the reciprocity question has taken in the special session of Congress and believes the lowering of the tariff wall between this country and Canada will prove of almost inestimable value to the United States and especially to St. Paul and the northwest.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. And I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish the letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

CORNERSTONE LAID
FOR NEW CHURCH

Members of Howard Street
Methodist Episcopal Gather at Ceremony.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—A large number of members of the Howard Street Methodist Episcopal Church gathered yesterday afternoon to witness the laying of the cornerstone of the beautiful new edifice at Howard and Harriett streets. The services were in charge of Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, assisted by Rev. W. C. Evans, district superintendent, and the pastor, Rev. Horace E. Beeks. The program, which commenced at 2 o'clock, consisted of religious exercises, an address by Bishop Hughes and the reading of a brief history of the congregation since the church was organized sixty years ago.

Into an airtight box beneath the cornerstone were placed all the treasures which had been rescued from the old church building after it had been destroyed by fire in 1908, as well as a copy of the history and other church literature. Among the original relics found to be intact after the fire was a copy of The Daily Morning Call, dated October 15, 1862, the day on which the first church building was dedicated. It was a four-page paper and was devoted almost entirely to war news, supplied by telegraph and letter.

It is expected that the church will be completed early in November and in the meantime the services will be held in the chapel in the rear, which was built in 1908. The new plans include the construction of spacious social halls beneath the main assembly room, and in the basement of the chapel a gymnasium and baths are to be installed. When completed the church will have cost over $60,000, most of which was subscribed by the board of home missions and church extension.

HILDESLEY WRITES OF VOICE CULTURE

Gives Viewpoint On Several Matters of Interest to Vocalists.

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—Sir: No wonder Mr. Charles Hildesley of Berkeley started the teachers at the convention of musicians held in San Francisco recently. In the first place he makes a gross error in calling his paper the "Scientific Art of Song and Voice Production," when everyone knows that singing is an "art" and not a "science."

Secondly, he says that the "teachers agree upon some common basis for teaching singing, etc." This is as impossible as it would be for physicians to have a "common basis for healing all diseases." The physician has to study the temperament of the patient, as well as the disease, and although he may have half a dozen patients with typhoid fever, he will be treating each one to some extent differently.

So it is with the vocal teacher. He has to study the temperament of his pupils, and has to use different methods in cultivating their voice, so that each and every one can be distinguished by their voice, though you cannot see them) as by their faces, which you can look upon.

My experience has been that pupils do not change from one instructor to another unless they find that the instructor (and the pupils have a great deal of common sense) is not helping them to cultivate their voice to the best advantage. They do not ruin their voices by changing from one instructor to another. Just the reverse; they are preventing the teacher from doing that, and when they have gone the "rounds" they finally come to the man who "knows" how to teach. The method of singing is not altered, it is the method of breathing that requires altering.

The principles of artistic tone production were certainly known to the old masters, as is exemplified by their pupils. Where do we get singers today who have studied in the Italian school, such as Patti, Melba, Sembrich and other ladies too numerous to mention and Mario, Graziani, Naudin Sims, Reeves, Herrongmanns, Carl Formes. Nearly all these men sang well they were over seventy years of age.

I am afraid that the reader of the paper does not understand the meaning of "Italian method" or he would have fallen in it. The Italian method, to sum it up in the fewest possible words, amounts to this: That it teaches one to produce the voice naturally, which means of course to breathe naturally, and to sing on the breath, not with it. If the old master could not sing on a vocal note, fit and ready to enter on a vocal note in five years as an artist, there was something radically wrong with the student.

Yours faithfully,
C. PATRIC HILDESLEY.

JAPANESE TO FOUND
COLONY NEAR CAPITAL

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—A Japanese syndicate of Sacramento has just made a deal through a local realty firm for the purchase of 435 acres of rich level land near Riego, on the line of the Northern Electric railroad, four or five miles north of this city, paying $2,625 for the tract. The purchasers will colonize the land with people of their own race, and will irrigate it for the propagation of crops that yield a good profit under intensive cultivation.

It is understood that the tendency in California to pass laws prohibiting the ownership of lands by aliens has caused this and many other alien dealers in which Japanese have been purchasers since the adjournment of the last legislature. White residents in the vicinity of Riego are expected to show considerable opposition to the establishment of a Japanese colony there.

CONDEMNED MAN TRIES TO CHEAT GALLOWS

BEAVER, Pa., July 17.—Charles Hickman, condemned to be hanged Tuesday for the murder of his wife in February 1910, almost succeeded in cheating the gallows by an attempt at suicide. Hickman has twice escaped from jail and has repeatedly said he would again make his escape. Saturday night two guards took him to a lavatory upon his request and when they heard a body fall they forced the door and found Hickman unconscious and the gas turned on. He had stood with his face to the gas, inhaling the fumes.

ALL IS FUN THAT COMES TO LEW HAWKINS' MILL

LEM HAWKINS, head of big fun show at Bell Theater.

Everything, whether it be serious or otherwise, looks like fun to Lew Hawkins, dean of the minstrel men, and he is at the Bell this week with a cracker-jack line of laughter. Hawkins is one of vaudeville's perennials and like the gentle "daffydill" he is always welcome. As a maker of black-face fun he has few equals and certainly it would be difficult to find his superior. Hawkins is possessed of a ragtime philosophy that is both amusing and encouraging and it looks at current events from a slant that none else gets; so, in a way, he is a good bit of a missionary, a mirthful missionary whose incursions into the jungle usually leave the "heathen" laughing.

Pearl Young, who came to both fame and popularity as the soprano soloist with John Phillip Sousa's band, has taken her lovely voice into vaudeville and is the chief singing attraction of the week. She has combined with her singing a delightful knack for the piano, and the result is a pianologue arrangement that is as pleasing as it can well be. At every Sunday performance it seemed as though her audience would not let her depart.

Paul Case, at once one of vaudeville's cleverest writers and producers, has turned out his best work in "Fresh From College," in which he and his excellent company are making many friends this week with the excellent portrayal of this lively skit. Mr. Case writes upon the theory that the vaudeville playlet that pleases most is the playlet with the least resemblance of plot and the largest amount of laughing material. He has been true to his theory in the construction of "Fresh From College," in which lovers, prizefight "pugs" and fans are almost hopelessly entangled in a frivolous domestic tragedy.

Ellis and Rose contribute to the bill a lot of the liveliest kind of dancing. They are wonderfully fast and very graceful, and they show a number of steps that are wholly new. It is one of those rattly-bang numbers that serve to lend speed and action to the show and it is entertaining every minute.

An exceptional feature is offered in Barnard's Manikins, which is making its first American appearance, coming to the Bell from the Palace theater, London. It is distinctly different from any other Marionette performance of the present day, and is essentially a novel entertainment, presenting original ideas and a mastery of manipulation not approximated elsewhere. It is a feature that will particularly please the children, while many older heads will find a maximum of pleasure in watching these apparently human manikins.

FIGHT IS PLANNED
AGAINST DISEASE

Americans Will Lead Crusade
Against Uncleanliness
in China.

BOSTON, July 17.—A group of Harvard university physicians will take the initiative in establishing the first great school that will attempt to introduce modern hygienic ideas into China. Dr. William Russ Edwards is the leader in the enterprise and President Emeritus Eliot is interested.

Twenty Americans have subscribed $25,000 toward the project. The physicians who will go have been selected. The location, the scope and the date of beginning the great work have been decided upon.

President Taft, who has studied the details of the plan carefully, is enthusiastic and foresees in it a new international bond. It will be a reopening of the door in China he thinks, and will give the natives a better understanding of the helpful intentions of Americans and foreigners in general.

On the coming Chinese New Year festival, February, the school will be opened formally. It will mark the entrance of western hygienic ideas into the Flowery Kingdom, and will, so the sponsors of the plan say, be the beginning of the end of the dread bubonic plague of Chinese tuberculosis, cholera and leprosy.

A fully equipped laboratory will be established, which will have for its object the study of these terrible diseases, which kill thousands of Chinese every year and imperil Europe and America.

"We are going to take the initiative in endeavoring to wipe from the world the terrors of the bubonic plague, the cholera and leprosy," said Doctor Edwards. "We shall establish a great medical school, which will aim to teach the Chinese the necessity of adopting western systems of medicine and hygiene in order to combat the horrors of these frightful diseases."

FAILS TO FLY; RIOT STARTS.
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 17.—The failure of A. G. Taft Laffan, a young Roumanian aviator of Sharon, to make a flight as advertised at Willis Park yesterday afternoon resulted in a riot between Americans and foreigners when the management refused to give back the money which had been collected at the gate. Several shots were fired by a foreigner but the bullets missed.

KILL MORE THAN WILD BEASTS.
The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malaria and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back if not satisfied. Only 50c at Osgood Bros.

FORMER LEGISLATOR
J. S. CLARKE IS DEAD

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—Joseph S. Clarke of Vandavia, Ill., former representative in the Illinois legislature from Payette county, is dead in the Robekah hospital, after an operation Friday for cancer.

Clarke was a Democrat. As a member of the legislature he cast his vote for William Lorimer for United States senator.

It was said that when Clarke was removed to the hospital he had been expected a summons to testify before the senate committee in Washington investigating Lorimer's election.

SOUL ANALYSIS IS
LATEST CURE-ALL

Baltimore Physician to Treat
Nervous Diseases in Unique Way.

BALTIMORE, July 17.—Soul analysis, a new and novel treatment for nervous diseases, will be tried for the first time on a large scale at the Johns Hopkins psychiatric clinic at the Johns Hopkins hospital, if the suggestions, made by the leading advocates of this method are accepted by Dr. Otto Meyer, the superintendent of the institution.

Dr. Meyer is in Europe consulting Dr. Sigmund Freud of Vienna and Dr. Jung of Switzerland, who are pioneers in this line.

It is said that Dr. Meyer has arranged with a specialist who has been studying under Dr. Freud to come to this country to take charge of the psycho-analysis ward.

Dr. Freud, who is the leading spokesman for the advocates of this method, believes that one personality exists in a sphere of activity distinct from that of the other. In everyday life he is convinced that one personality is ignorant of the workings of its brother, yet both affect the mind of the owner.

When the conscious personality wishes for or hopes for anything the mind knows of it at once and the wish or hope is at once satisfied, but when the unconscious personality has a desire the mind knows nothing of it and the result is an involuntary spirit of unrest known as "nervousness."

Among the scientists working upon this theory it is an axiom that "every state of nervousness denotes something lacking by the unconscious personality," and it is to raise the boycott upon this unconscious personality that Dr. Freud has been working, for he believes that the removal of the discord will result in the belief of the nervousness.

Consequently he has adopted a method of treatment which he calls psycho-analysis, or "soul analysis."

When You Plan Your Home

Be sure to give especial attention to the lighting plan. See that every gas and electric outlet and switch is installed in just the right place. That piano lamp, that cozy corner lantern, those brackets and hallway lights can be so placed that they will combine utility, economy and decorative effect.

Many a house or flat has been rented or sold through the artistic arrangement of its lights.

This company is always ready to give consumers and prospective builders the benefit of its wide experience. Let's talk it over.

PRINCE OF WALES
TO VISIT COAST

British Admiralty Arranges for Extensive Trip of King's Son.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—According to well authenticated reports in high official circles, the British admiralty is arranging an around-the-world sea voyage for the newly-invested young Prince of Wales, including stops at the ports of New York and San Francisco.

The proposed itinerary of the trip calls for a start westward from Liverpool early in the fall. The trip will be made either in one of the new British dreadnoughts or the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, in which King George and Queen Mary reviewed the great naval pageant given in celebration of the coronation.

According to this same authority, the young prince will be escorted "on a tour of the principal centers of Canada, before proceeding southward on the Atlantic. The schedule as tentatively arranged calls for an official stop at Washington.

After a visit to the principal ports of South America, the royal party will sail direct for San Francisco and from this port the run will be made across the Pacific to the Orient. The young prince will be taken on a visit to India, Africa and all the British colonies to give him an idea of the extent of his future possessions.

There is declared to be no political significance attached to the prince's forthcoming American visit, the heir to the British throne being too young to be concerned in an errand of diplomatic character.

GALLINGER MAY NEVER RETURN TO WASHINGTON

CONCORD, N. H., July 17.—United States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger may never return to Washington again. It is a foregone conclusion that the New Hampshire senator will participate no further in the deliberations of the present session.

It is spoken here in whispers of the frequency and suddenness with which the hand of death has been laid upon Senator Gallinger's shoulders in recent years. One after another his wife and three of their four children have been taken away from him. In his 76th year, he is all alone, his surviving daughter living eighty miles away at Brookline, Mass.

The funeral of Senator Gallinger's second son, Ralph E. Gallinger, who was killed in an automobile accident, took place Saturday.

JACK CONANT'S DAY ENDED.

REDDING, July 17.—The body of Jack Conant, a paymaster, whose life tragedy is known in nearly every mining camp and town in the West, was found yesterday on Salt Creek, near Shasta.

Over twenty years ago Conant located the Uncle Sam gold mine in Shasta county and sold it for $350,000. He spent this at the rate of $120,000 a year, and ever since has wandered about, poverty stricken, but hopeful.

DAAHL THOMS AWNING CO.

A modern home is not complete unless supplied with canvas awnings for the windows and porch. They more than save their cost the first three months they are in use. In fact, the cost of an awning does not exceed one-sixteenth part of a cent per day and is therefore within the reach of everyone. Shades are all right, but the sun hits the glass just the same and heats up the room inside. Awnings keep the sun away from the glass and the result is a cool and comfortable home. If you have a porch or intend to build one you ought to equip it with awnings or curtains as you really cannot sit outside on a windy day without them. Let us fix up a cozy corner for you or your porch and you will be surprised how much better you will feel and how much more you will live out of doors.

As Enid and Nettie Yale of this city Mrs. Gracey and Mrs. Bailey were popular members of the local smart set. The Gracey family is well-known in diplomatic circles of the Orient, as Mr. Gracey, Sr., has been connected with the consular service for nearly thirty years. Their home is always the center of much hospitality, and many distinguished visitors to the Orient are entertained by them.

The couple were met in Santa Cruz by relatives of the bride, who are spending the summer at Brookdale. Woman Maniac Chokes Nurse AND HANGS SELF TRENTON.—As Miss Ruth Manning, a student in the school for trained nurses at the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane here, was making her last tour of inspection of the private rooms occupied by women patients, about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, she heard unusual sounds coming from a room. Mrs. Adelle M. Fielder, a sufferer from chronic dementia. As in the case with all such patients the room door was open. Miss Manning found Mrs. Fielder in a frenzy. She screamed that she was going to be free and "that the person that stopped her must die." Miss Manning's efforts to calm the woman were unsuccessful. Mrs. Fielder rushed for the door. Miss Manning leaped past her and stood in the opening with outstretched arms. Foiled in her attempt to escape, Mrs. Fielder became furious.

"Stand aside!" she screamed, "or this room will soon be stained with blood!"

GRIPS THROAT OF THE NURSE.

The nurse did not flatter. Instead she gently put her hands on the crazed woman's shoulder and tried to soothe her. The maddened woman broke away and leaped on Miss Manning. Screaming, she dug her nails into the nurse's face, tearing the skin. Then she seized Miss Manning by the throat. The young woman made a brave defense, but was at a disadvantage because she did not wish to injure the patient.

Miss Manning made desperate struggles to free herself from the maniac's clutch on her throat. Her face began to turn blue and she realized she was being strangled. Exhausted, with the last of her strength she tried to break the maniac's grip on her throat and failed. Her senses then left her.

CRAZED ONE GOES TO HER RESCUE.

In adjoining rooms were many patients, some of whom were considered dangerous. They heard the noise of the life and death struggle and a dozen hurried to the scene. Seizing Mrs. Fielder by the arms and around the waist they tried to drag her from the unconscious nurse, but she held on with a grip like death. For a few minutes patient and nurse were hauled around the room. Then one of the inmates caught Mrs. Fielder by the throat. To prevent being choked herself Mrs. Fielder was forced to release her hold on Miss Manning. The nurse fell to the floor. Mrs. Fielder leaped for her, but the other patients grabbed her and dragged Miss Manning from the room. Her apron and part of her dress had been torn off and left in the room.

WRITE, BUT DO NOT SPEAK

Experiences having shown that colloquial discussions of their money matters were not safe, Philip Marshall, of Newark, and his wife, Mrs. Anna C. Marshall, adopted the plan of putting all communications between them on that subject in writing. This made for peace, but they had other troubles, which were recorded yesterday in Jersey City, before Vice-Chancellor Howell in the trial of Mrs. Marshall's suit for divorce on the ground of cruelty and desertion.

The couple lived together thirty-eight years. Their five children are men and women. Mrs. Marshall appeared feeble and was assisted to and from the witness chair by her two daughters. Her husband had called her a flirt and other names, she said. Because of his treatment she ceased to love him, and she would not live with him again.

Marshall said he entered the service of

BISHOP WEDS SON TO ACTRESS

NEW YORK.—There was a notable alliance of church and stage when the Right Rev. Samuel Fallows, Bishop of the Reformed Episcopal Church, came to this city from Chicago to officiate at the marriage of his youngest son, Charles Samuel Fallows, of this city, and Eda von Leska Bruna, until recently an actress in the support of Jack Barrymore in "The Fortune Hunter."

The marriage was celebrated at 1 o'clock in the First Reformed Episcopal Church, Madison avenue and Fifty-fifth street. Bishop Fallows was assisted by the Rev. Dr. W. D. Stevens. Only members of the families of the bride and bridegroom were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fallows left for a honeymoon trip and after August 1 will live at Port Washington, L. I.

Mrs. Fallows is a graduate of Smith College, where she was a roommate of a daughter of Professor Henry van Dyke of Princeton and classmate also of Bishop Fallows' daughter, Miss Alice Katherine Fallows. At college Miss Bruna was prominent in amateur theatricals, and after her graduation, five years ago, she went upon the professional stage. Her last appearance here was "The Fortune Hunter" at the Gaiety Theater. She will retire from the stage permanently.

Mr. Fallows is a lawyer and has an office at 30 Church street with his brother, formerly Assemblyman Elward H. Fallows. He is a Yale graduate and a member of the famous Wolf's Head, the Yale Senior Society, and the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

ONE CAT TO HOUSEHOLD, IS DICTUM

WILKES-BARRE.—Only one cat will be allowed in a household, according to a decision of the health officers of this city, when they ordered that Mrs. William Church dispense with eleven of her twelve felines. She is an elderly woman, who, having no children, has become very much attached to her pets. Neighbors complained that the cats were a nuisance. A health officer sent to inspect the premises found the twelve cats had the freedom of the house and that one big fellow slept in the middle of the dining-room table while others occupied easy chairs or the beds.

Mrs. Church declared it will break her heart to part with her pets. They are well-bred and well-behaved, she insisted, and wept profusely. She was allowed six days in which to dispose of the eleven.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

OUTDOOR LIFE IS REVELED IN BY CHILDREN

Swimming has become the most popular outdoor exercise for the boys and girls of this city. Legions of youngsters are training in the surf.

The girls in Bushrod Park have commenced swimming folk-dancing for the fall season under the direction of Miss Johanna Johnson, who is in charge of the young women of the playgrounds.

The summer playgrounds, which were opened for the pleasure of the little ones in the various districts throughout the city will close before school opens. It is stated, however, that the Tompkins school playgrounds and a few others will continue during the entire year.

Superintendent of Playgrounds George E. Dickie said this morning that there is necessity for a number of the playgrounds to remain open throughout the year.

BOY SCOUTS TO TAKE PART IN FIELD MEET

Five hundred Boy Scouts will take part in the field meet to be held August 12 in Bushrod park field. Sixty-first and Shattuck avenue, where the scouts of Alameda county will join in the games. It is expected that 1000 boys, who are interested in the scout movement, will witness the meet.

According to latest reports from L. N. Brasefield, chief scout master of the boys of the First Presbyterian church of this city, the leads of the Fruitvale district from Diamond canyon to East Fourth street will organize next Thursday evening. The Congregational church Boy Scouts will establish patrols about August 1, when about 100 boys will join the patrol.

The last tramp to Leona Heights enjoyed by the Boy Scouts of the First Presbyterian church was one of the most interesting of the year. No plans have been made for the outing next Saturday, but it is presumed that they will make a pilgrimage to a picturesque resort in Alameda county.

London Society to Turn Back on King's Friend

Crying Baby Angers Ethel Barrymore in Theater

LONDON, July 17.—Mrs. George Keppel is on her way home after an absence of eighteen months. She will not be seen in London until the late autumn and society is already discussing how the extremely delicate social position of her future position will be solved.

Friends of Mrs. Keppel, who was hostess of the late King Edward frequently and always an invited guest wherever he dined, are criticizing her severely for her ostentatious retirement and more than widow's mourning which she has indulged in since King Edward's death. She left London almost at once. First she went into the strictest retirement at Versailles and then left for a prolonged tour of the Far East.

It is conceded by her real friends—and she has never been without them by any means—that she will now have to win her way and within circumstances. She cannot meet any of the royal family, while social personages who desire to stand well with the King and Queen will be chary about entertaining her.

Baby Angers Ethel

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—Ethel Barrymore, the actress, through her manager tried to oust Chief of Police Ahern from the Clunie theater during a performance there, not knowing his identity. Miss Barrymore was annoyed by the crying of a baby in the audience and declared between acts that she would not appear until the child was removed. Her manager went into the audience and delivered her ultimatum to the father of the child, who was no other than the chief Ahern. Ahern declined to take it out on the ground that it had ceased its crying and would cause no further disturbance.

The manager ordered him to take it out anyway, threatening to call in a policeman to remove the Chief Ahern told him to go ahead and do so. The manager started to carry out his purpose, but was enlightened by the manager of the theater as to the identity of the man he was trying to oust. He was puzzling over what to do next when Ahern left the place, having decided to leave with his infant rather than have any further scenes.

Church Marriage Illegal

ALBANY, Ore., July 17.—That marriages contracted by foreigners in Japan for several years after 1905 on the supposition that the Japanese was a religious ceremony in that country and not a legal contract, are illegal, is indicated by the act of Fred D. Fisher, United States consul at Mukden, evidence of whose marriage in Japan in 1902 has been recently made known.

Until 1909, because there were no civil laws affecting marriage in Japan, it was the custom for foreigners to have a religious ceremony performed, and that fact, certified to by the American consul. In 1909 the Japanese government passed a law making marriage a civil contract, but this fact was not made known to foreigners for several years afterward.

In the meantime some forty British couples, many Americans, were married by religious ceremony, the civil contract not being entered into. The United States recognized marriages performed according to the laws of the country in which the marriage ceremony was taken, and many marriages in 1909 which did not comply with the new Japanese law, are said to be of questionable validity.

Long Sleeper Awakens

VANDALIA, Ill., July 17.—Waking of her own accord early yesterday morning and remaining awake an hour and a half, Miss Hazel Schmidt, daughter of former Alderman George Schmidt, learned that she had been asleep just three months.

"I can't realize this is true," she said; "I can't see how I could possibly have slept all that time. I don't feel one bit bad over it and I know I would be all right again if I could only stay awake." She suffers no pain now. Her appetite is good and she has gained flesh within the last week. The attending physician says that he believes the girl will be up and around within the next three weeks.

Broke Own Record

NEWPORT, July 17.—Miss Constance Warren, Newport society's leading exponent of outdoor sports, yesterday afternoon broke her last summer's swimming record between Bailey's Beach and the Footsteps by 30 minutes. Her time was 1 hour and 50 minutes. The course is a mile long. When she landed at Bailey's Beach after her swim Miss Warren was joined by her maid and drove home, later attending the Vanderbilt dinner party.

Dies Rather Than Tell

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 17.—Rather than testify against her husband, James Bedwell, whom she was suing for divorce, Mrs. Elizabeth Bedwell, 45 years old, swallowed carbolic acid, and died half an hour later. An officer had been sent to summons her to court and found her dying, but conscious.

"I could not face all that roomful of people and tell on him," she gasped. When the officer reported back to the court the case was dismissed.

NEW YORK FIGHTS AGAINST CHOLERA

WAR WAGED ON DISEASE IN GOTHAM

City in Danger of Epidemic and Federal Government Takes Hand.

Another Death During Night Brings Fatalities Up to Six.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The fight to bar cholera from the port of New York continued today with a federal expert helping the local health department. The 248 persons who arrived here two weeks ago on the steamer Moltke and are still under observation will undergo bacteriological examinations and a more rigid quarantine will be enforced at Swinburn Island, where fifteen cases of the disease are confined, with four others under suspicion.

These cases, with the five deaths that have occurred since the Moltke brought the germ here from Naples, show the reality of the danger the city faces from the epidemic now raging in Southern Europe. While nothing even approaching a panic exists here now, the situation is receiving greater attention and Dr. Alvah H. Doty, health officer of the port, has felt called on to issue a reassuring statement.

THROUGH MOUTH. Dr. Doty says that cholera germs can be received in one way only—through the mouth—and that there is no danger in ordinary contact with persons who have the disease. However, Charles E. Hughes, counsel for the complainant at the investigation of Doty's official conduct, now in progress, declares his belief that the cholera patients now in the hospital caught the disease not on the steamer but at the immigration station, where all the passengers were detained after landing.

Another death from cholera occurred at the Swinburn Island hospital during the night, making a total of six. The latest victim is Francis Alexander, aged 14. The quarantine officers said today that conditions at Hoffman Island were satisfactory. The steamer Perugia, from the Mediterranean, is still at anchor in the harbor, while her passengers are under observation.

No cases of cholera were found among the 261 passengers and 91 members of the crew of the Perugia.

EXAGGERATED REPORTS. CHISSAO, Switzerland, July 17.—The London reports of the number of cholera victims at Palermo, Italy, since May 2 are exaggerated, according to information received here.

Although it cannot be known with official exactness, the dead at Palermo may reach 250, but not 3100, as has been stated.

The cholera situation, both at Palermo and Naples, is now said to be improving. In Palermo the daily death average is 20 and at Naples 12. At Leghorn there have been a total of 13 deaths since the epidemic first appeared. While at Spezia the fatalities have numbered seven, at Brescia three and at Pisa one.

The entire public health machinery of the government has been put in motion to fight off the cholera invasion from Europe. All consular reports from Europe are being carefully studied and the public health office at Naples has been instructed to cable a report every five days as to developments in Italy.

A public health service expert, hurried to New York City, is expected to work in co-operation with Dr. Doty and other health authorities there.

Part of Wrecked Maine Arrives in New York

Twisted and Battered Metal Shows Great Force of Explosion.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Many tons of twisted and battered metal from the wreck of the Maine have reached New York within the past three days. A large shipment was brought in by the S. S. Allegany of the Hamburg-American Line, under the direction of the government. It has not been announced what final distribution these relics will receive. The metal has no intrinsic value except to be sold as old metal. It bears eloquent testimony, after these many years, of the frightful force of the explosion which wrecked the Maine. The metal was loosened from the upper works of the ship, which have only recently been exposed by the slowly receding waters. A large number of tourists returning from Jamaica besieged the government officers for souvenirs of the famous battleship.

SLAYER OF NAVARRO

FACES JURY TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Augustine Orevalo, defended by Judge Carroll Cook, and it is said, backed in his defense with aid furnished by the Spanish government, was placed on trial for murder in Superior Judge Dunne's court today. The crime for which Orevalo must face a jury was the slaying of Domingo Navarro, president of the Ship Sealers' union, a row at the Union Iron Works on December 7 last. Orevalo was a non-union man, it is claimed, and a small-sized riot occurred at the time of the tragedy.

'DICK TO DICK' LETTER SAID TO BE 'RANKEST NONSENSE'

John A. Carson, Special Counsel for Alaska Syndicate, Scoffs at Famous Document and Says It Is a Farce

SALEM, Ore., July 17.—According to John A. Carson, special counsel for the Alaska Syndicate, and author of the letter to Captain D. H. Jarvis, regarding the Morrison account, which was included in the charge made by Delegate Wickham against Attorney General Wickham, the alleged "Dick to Dick" letter, which Miss Abbott asserts she discovered in the interior department records, is "Rankest nonsense."

"The letter is a farce in the first place, because the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate has no reason to wish to secure a harbor at Controller bay, and in the second place, because there is no suitable harbor there. Controller bay, or Katala bay, as it is known to all Alaskans, is a roadstead rather than a harbor."

Carson says that a vessel often cannot enter it even in July and that without doubt, "it is the worst place in the world to locate a harbor, especially such a harbor as would be necessary for a railroad terminal."

QUALIFIES DENIAL

"I do not deny," Carson continued, "that the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate attempted to build a road from Controller bay. The coal fields are near that bay and further back are copper mines owned by the Guggenheims."

Carson says that the engineer was sent to Alaska to determine a route for a railroad, and against Carson's advice decided to start from Controller bay. More than $1,500,000 was spent before the project was abandoned.

"After spending this immense sum of money," said Carson, "the company suddenly came to the realization that the engineer was wrong and that there is no harbor at Controller bay. It is shallow, rocky, and worthless for harbor purposes, and worthless for harbor purposes."

The syndicate later, Carson states, bought rights of way belonging to the dead man is Cesara Cassisi, aged 19. Sam Denna was shot twice in the back. Tony Cassisi, uncle of the dead man, who received a bullet in the back, told the police that while he and his companions were walking along Rio Pella street, these men ran up behind them and opened fire. He could give no explanation of the shooting.

Blood Flows in Mysterious Affray

One Man Killed in Running Revolver Fight, Another Fatally Wounded.

DETROIT, July 17.—In a running revolver fight, the cause of which has not been learned, late last night, one Italian was instantly killed and another probably fatally hurt and a third received serious wounds in the back.

The dead man is Cesara Cassisi, aged 19. Sam Denna was shot twice in the back. Tony Cassisi, uncle of the dead man, who received a bullet in the back, told the police that while he and his companions were walking along Rio Pella street, these men ran up behind them and opened fire. He could give no explanation of the shooting.

Mildred Bridges to Be Ward of Chicago Court

Seventeen-Year-Old Girl Must Answer for Actions to Judge Until She Is 21.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Mildred Bridges, the 17-year-old girl for whose abduction Evelyn Arthur See, leader of the "Absolute Life" cult, was convicted last week, probably will be kept under the guidance of the court until she has attained the age of 21.

Mildred Bridges will be 18 early in October, which, according to Illinois law, makes her legally a minor. A special provision of the Juvenile Law provides for such cases as that which Mildred Bridges is said to present. If required, additional jurisdiction can be obtained for any child who has once been a ward of the court until the age of 21.

UNION LEADERS MAKE FIGHT IN COURT

Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison Resist Latest Order of Contempt.

Attack Jurisdiction of Court and Legality of Proceeding.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Protests against further hearing before Justice Wright on the ground that he already had formed and expressed an opinion against the defendants, and attempts to stop the hearing by technical objections having proved futile today, Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, labor leaders, will appear in the district supreme court again next Monday to insist that the latest contempt charges against them in connection with the Bucks stove and range case be made more specific.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Attacking the jurisdiction of the court and the legality of the proceeding, President Samuel Gompers, Vice-President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor appeared in the equity branch of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia today to resist the latest contempt order issued against them by Justice Wright. The first moves were of a technical nature and were overruled by Justice Wright. A motion to dismiss on the ground that the service of the order was incomplete was sustained, but when Justice Wright directed the marshals to serve new papers forthwith the point was waived.

ANOTHER MOTION.

The defendants then moved to dismiss because the report of the committee of lawyers submitted to the court in the case was not proper one, in that the members of the committee did not and could not exercise the judicial qualities required in the order. It was contended that the members of the committee were counsel for the National Boycott Association and that the conclusion of the Bucks Stove and Range Company's case did not stop "their persecution" of these defendants, and therefore they were not qualified to make judgment upon the acts of the defendants.

This motion was overruled, the court holding that the members of the committee were not disqualified, and not called on to exercise judicial functions. In ruling the court remarked that even had the committee reported that there were no reasonable grounds for contempt charges, the report would not have been received.

ATTORNEYS PROTEST.

Gompers' attorneys at once protested that in view of this expression by the court they should not be compelled to proceed, but that Justice Wright should certify the case to some other justice for trial. Justice Wright curtly dismissed the protest with "you may proceed." An exception was noted.

The motion to strike out the names of Davenport, Darlington and Beck as prosecutors and submit the District Attorney was overruled insofar as the members of the committee were concerned. The court asked District Attorney William C. Sullivan if he would like to have his name added to the committee as a prosecutor and gave him time to consider the question.

A motion for a bill of particulars was filed.

U. S. SOLDIERS DECLARE WAR

Maneuvers Began in San Francisco at 12:01 This Morning.

Gunboat and "Hostile Fleet" Will Seek to Enter Golden Gate.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—"War" was declared at 12:01 this morning when the maneuvers in which United States troops at the Presidio, nine companies of Coast Artillery of the California National Guard and several naval vessels will participate officially, began.

The maneuvers will culminate Thursday in an attempt by the gunboat Marblehead and a "hostile fleet" to pass the fortifications of the Golden Gate and land a force within safely.

During the maneuvers exhaustive tests of the wireless telegraph will be made under the direction of Lieutenant J. McHenry, who has been detailed to scout duty with the defending forces. Eugene E. Ely, who made a successful landing aboard the cruiser Pennsylvania and who is a member of the signal corps detachment of the California guard is expected to arrive here from Seattle early in the week to take part in the maneuvers.

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL VOICE PROTEST TONIGHT

Declare Impost Has Been Levied Unfairly and Strong Opposition Will Develop at Mass Meeting

Protest will be voiced by hundreds of property owners at a mass meeting to be held tonight in Foresters' Hall at Thirteenth and Clay streets against the proposed opening of Jefferson street from Seventeenth street north to San Pablo street, which would place a street on the city's books.

It is possible that H. C. Capwell, who has signed the protest, will preside over the mass meeting tonight. Other prominent names who have signed the protest are Frank C. Havens, Wickham Havens, Abrahamson Bros., and M. E. Smith. The council was initiated by Philip Ehrlich.

All day today property owners within the assessment district were making calls at the office of the city clerk to look over the report of the assessment. The city clerk fixed the tax. They allege that many cases of discrimination and disproportionate assessment have been found in the report.

TAX-RANGE WIDE.

The tax per front foot fixed by the street commission ranges from $10 a front foot to $199 a front foot. The assessment district extends 150 feet each side of Jefferson street from Seventeenth street to San Pablo street, and 150 feet each side of San Pablo street from Jefferson street north to Thirtieth street.

The people far to the south, below Seventh and Eighth streets, and far to the north above Thirtieth street, and with Pablo street as the dividing line, are given the lowest assessments per front foot, while those close to Seventeenth street and Jefferson street are given the highest. These people close to the place where the property is to be taken are given redress in the form of damages where property is taken or improvements out and damaged. The property owners at the two extremes of the assessment district on the north and south declare that the benefits to them from the opening of the street are of almost negligible quantity. They declare that they should have been left out of the assessment district, and that the street being in their neighborhood is a more nominal figure. Those whose frontages are on cross streets off the main street, and who are on Thirtieth street, are most bitter in their complaints against the unjustness of the assessments levied.

"If it is going to cost a sum such as this $334,368.50 to open a street for two blocks, and this sum is to be levied upon

CHINESE GHOSTS GREET RAIDERS

Sheeted figures, standing in gruesome attitudes in a long line around the inside of a darkened room startled Patrolman A. G. Book when he searched a Chinese gambling house at Seventh and Webster streets yesterday. The place had been broken into by police under Sergeant Robert Forgie, and Book had made his way into a dark room.

Despite his feeling that he was in the presence of Oriental wizards, Book quivered his desire to run and, revolver in hand, reached to feel what reality might lie behind the spectre. His hand encountered a sheet, which he whipped off with a sudden sweep of his arm. A man of light answered his action and Book found himself presenting his revolver in the convulsed and scared features of a Chinaman. The other ghosts attempted to decamp like a fluttering flock of scarecrows.

The posse rounded up 20 Chinese, who were taken to the police station and charged under the gambling ordinance. A raid was also made at 344 Seventh

SUGAR TRUST VIEWED AS BUGBEAR

Witness Before House Committee Says Planters Fear Its Enmity.

States It Has Barred Independent Refiners From Louisiana Market.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—That Louisiana sugar planters and independent refiners fear the American Sugar Refining Company was declared today by J. E. Ruggles, president of the Louisiana Planters' Association. He testified that a reduction of sugar tariffs would ruin the Louisiana sugar industry.

"I can't get independent refiners to come to Louisiana and bid on our sugar," he said. "They say they will not come to our field, but will buy our sugars if we get them into their market."

"They have no satisfactory reason, therefore, but I made my own deductions—that the independent refiners regard Louisiana as American Sugar Refining Company territory and refused to enter that territory for fear they would make trouble for themselves with the trust."

"I predict a crop of one million tons of sugar a year in Louisiana and Texas within a few years. If the sugar tariff is cut in half it would immediately annihilate the sugar industry of Louisiana and affect the prosperity of more than 2,000,000 people."

Professor W. C. Stubbs, former state chemist of Louisiana, declared that Louisiana had ten million acres that could be made sugar-bearing land if capital could be found to enter the state, and that capital would not undertake the venture for fear the tariff would be disturbed.

WOULD ADMINISTER THE EUCHLER ESTATE

Widow of Suicide Petitions the Court for Letters Testamentary.

Edna A. Euchler of 1015 Seventy-first avenue, widow of Contractor George B. Euchler, who committed suicide Saturday morning after shooting and dangerously wounding John Auchenbaugh of 424 Fifty-fifth street, and also shooting Division Superintendent Harry Kelton of the Oakland Traction Company, applied this forenoon in the probate department of the superior court for letters of administration in her husband's estate. Euchler died intestate, according to the widow's petition, leaving the last payment on the building contract on Auchenbaugh's house on Kales avenue, amounting to $1050.50, together with a building contract on College Street, Oakland, amounting to about $1000 and awarded by the Road Riders Club. The attempted murder of Auchenbaugh and suicide of Euchler was the outcome of a difference of $12.50 on the former contract.

Three sisters and a brother survive Euchler, according to his widow's petition. One sister, Lida Atkinson, resides in Pittsburg, Pa., but the names and residences of the other sisters are unknown to Mrs. Euchler. The brother the widow mentions is John Auchler, who resides in Waterville, Pa.

Auchenbaugh is resting easily at the Alta Bates sanatorium, and strong hope is held out for his recovery. Harry Kelton, who was shot by a stray bullet during the duel between Patrolman Auchenbaugh and Euchler, will be discharged from the East Bay sanatorium within a few days.

The funeral of Euchler will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of James Finney. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

INJURED BERKELEY MAN SCORNS HOSPITAL

William Reuter, Shot in Quarrel Over Debt, Leaps From Cot.

ADOLPH RUDELLE'S JAILED FOR SHOOTING

Victim in Serious Condition as Result of Refusing Medical Aid.

BERKELEY, July 17.—Having refused to remain at Roosevelt hospital, after being shot in the head, William Reuter, proprietor of a cleaning and dyeing works, is in a dangerous condition today at his home, 839 Jones street, West Berkeley.

He was shot last yesterday at Second and Camelia streets by Adolph Rudelle, a workman, who alleges that Reuter owes him money for an incubator.

Reuter, in telling of the shooting, stated today that he was in a buggy when he met Rudelle, who came into the street and accosted him. He added:

"Just as I stepped out of the buggy Rudelle shot at me with a 22-caliber revolver and I fell to the ground, wounded in the head. I managed to get to my feet and gave Rudelle an uppercut in the face with my fist. Then he fired two more shots at me."

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

The injured man, bleeding profusely, went to his home, several blocks from the scene of the shooting, and telephoned to the police. He was taken to the hospital in an automobile, but he refused to remain there after his wounds were dressed by Dr. J. J. Benton, city health officer. He leaped up from his cot, with the announcement that he was "all right," and hastened to his home on a street car.

Dr. Benton reports that a wound over Reuter's left eye was apparently caused by a bullet, but the missile has not yet been located in his head, if one is there. There is also three lacerated wounds on the right side of the head, back of the ear, which the physician believes to have been inflicted by the butt of a revolver. Reuter declares that he was shot in the head, and that three shots in all were fired at him. He threatened to "lick" his son and business partner, August Reuter, this morning, as proof that he was in good condition, despite his injuries. The son forced the elder man back in bed and kept him from carrying out his intention.

Reuter bought an incubator from Rudelle two years ago, and promised $15 for it, according to the police, and when Rudelle attempted to collect the money at that time, Reuter told the other man that he must first settle a board bill. The men have been quarreling ever since, and yesterday's shooting was the outcome.

Reuter is under arrest and will probably be held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

DR. THORNBURGH GOES ON TRIAL

Alamedan Faces Charge of Passing Fictitious $5 Check.

Dr. H. T. Thornburgh of Alameda was placed on trial this morning in the criminal department of the Superior Court, Judge McDaniel of Yuba county, presiding, charged with passing a fictitious check for $5 on March 26. Thornburgh was on a protracted spree when he cashed the check with a saloonkeeper. It passed through several other hands and finally reached the firm of M. & L. Profumo, fruit dealers at 1215 Lincoln street, Alameda. Restitution was made by Mrs. Thornburgh to the parties who handled the check with the exception of the Profumos, and they are the complainants in the pending case.

After his arrest on a charge of passing a check, Dr. Thornburgh was taken to the Alameda city jail and transferred to the Alameda hospital on a charge of insanity. A jury commission over which Superior Judge Wente presided, to commit the patient and he was returned to the Alameda city jail. Dr. Thornburgh's defense is that he was under the influence of alcohol when he committed the crime and did not know what he was doing, and that so far as it is all within his power he made financial restitution. Deputy District Attorney Satterwhite is conducting the prosecution.

MISSSES TRAIN; ALSO BRIDE OF FEW-DAYS

SYRACUSE, July 16.—When Francis Dubois, an oil prospector from Enid, Okla., arrived here he was hoping to find his bride of a few days at the Broadway Central hotel. They became separated at the time he left for Enid. Dubois left the train to overtake a man who had started off with his coat. It was nothing more than an error on the other man's part, and when Dubois saw his coat again his train was gone.

He didn't think to telegraph on to Chicago to have his wife get off and wait for him. Arriving at Syracuse he was overcome by the heat and had to leave the train. He was about the St. Cloud lobby most of the day, and complaints of the excessive heat led to his telling of his woes. Both Dubois and his bride are natives of Denmark. He is thirty-two years old and she is twenty-eight.

SPUD HAS RELATIVE NEW TO CALIFORNIA

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 17.—Taro may help to reduce the food bill of the country and to add to the agricultural resources of California. The agricultural department of the university, after several months of experimenting, concludes that taro can be grown in any climate that approximates to that of California.

Taro is a product of the South Sea Islands. It is a cousin of the potato, but far exceeds its relative in flavor and in the amount that can be produced per acre.

Introduction of taro to the people of the United States is due to the Agricultural Department at Washington, which for the past four years has had experts in the field looking for food products in foreign countries that could be grown to advantage in this country.

ELECTROLIERS ARE INSTALLED IN CITY

Santa Clara Avenue Will Soon Be Lined With Bright Lights.

ALAMEDA, July 17.—At the request of taxpayers, the electric light commission is installing electroliers in Haigh avenue between Fourth and Ninth streets in Sixth street between Eighth and Central avenues. The expense of installation is borne by assessment on the property benefited. The assessment is 20 cents a front foot. The current is provided by the city after the lights are installed.

The electroliers will probably be installed in Santa Clara avenue in the near future. Although there has been some opposition on the part of property owners to the assessment for the lights, an order recently passed by the state legislature empowers the city to form assessment districts and install the light where the city deems it necessary for the taxpayers authorizing the work.

BERKELEY OWLS AVERAGE DEFEAT

Meet Elks on Diamond and Admiration 9 to 7 Drubbing.

BERKELEY, July 17.—It is now neck-and-neck with the Owls and Elks lodges of Berkeley for baseball honors. After a terrific struggle at Grove street park yesterday, the Owls averaged themselves for the defeat handed out two weeks before by the Elks who won by a score of 9 to 7.

The drubbing yesterday was of a more decisive quality, it being a 9 to 7 victory for the feathered players. The contest, scheduled for a fortnight hence, is the keenest ever known among the members of the two lodges and betting on the outcome will be brisk during the next two weeks, with the odds probably a shade in favor of the Owls.

Pernoll and Ables in Great Boxwork Win the Series for Oakland From Seals

OAKLAND ONCE MORE WINS SERIES FROM EWING'S MEN

Pernoll and Ables Toy With Seals and Both Victories Are Well Earned Ones

Two games on the wind-up of the week and once more the series is the way the Fighting Oaks finished with the Seals. In the morning session at Freeman Park it was the redoubtable Bud Pernoll who did the twirling for the fighting bunch, and from tap of gong until the final round he had Ewing's bunch eating out of his hand, and his victory was just as easy as the one before and the score was the same, 3 to 0.

Over the bay in the afternoon Harry Ables made his initial bow before a San Francisco audience and he too had the Ewingites up in the air all the time, winning his game by a score of two to one and allowing his opponents three hits. That in fact was a reason for the Seals being on the short end of the score in both games; they couldn't find the shoots and slants of either the Big Bud Pernoll and the Big Harry Ables.

MAGGART GETS A HOMER.

As for the before lunch affair, one could say that it was all over in the third inning. Young Maggart was the hope of the Seals and did nicely until the Maggart boy went to the bat. Earl, with his ability to clout the ball, showed the way for brawl and woe to the Seals' fans by polling the pellet out of the lot for the circuit.

In the ninth inning Oakland gathered two more men that they really didn't need, but they wanted to make Pernoll's record look all the better. As for the Seals they couldn't hit. One bludge in the first inning and two in the third being their sum total. After that it was walk to the plate, stand around awhile and then walk to the bench.

ABLES BETTER THAN BROWNE.

Over the pond a great big crowd was on hand to see the scrap and if rooting counted then the Seals should have won. It was simply inability to hit Ables when hits counted and that spoiled defeat for the Ewingites. Browning went wild in the second inning and Oakland gathered their first run. Tiedemann went to first on a missed third strike that went as a wild pitch and when Wolverton was passed Big John moved to second. Mitze hit the rightfield fence and John romped. Wares got the second run in the sixth inning. Bowling out a bunt he went to second on a wild pitch and on an infield out and a sacrifice fly by Zacher he crossed the plate.

San Francisco railed a hope in the ninth by tallying once but it was still one short and the third series went to the Oaks.

N. Y. TENEMENTS STARTLE OFFICIAL

Dr. Chas. Prannard of France
Finds Conditions in Gotham Deplorable.

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 17.—Dr. Chas. Prannard, deputy of the bureau of special providence of France, who is here to look over this city's housing methods, finds conditions in New York "amazing."

He started off with an inspection of East side tenements, hoping to get some hints for improving housing conditions in France, but his first glimpse led him to think that this city had better send to Paris for instruction.

"I inspected several tenements in lower Manhattan," he said on his return, "and found the tenants paying $10 per month rent per room. Many of these rooms are so dark that they should be vacated at once as unfit for human beings to live in. They are also veritable death traps."

"Five hundred dollars is the average earnings of unskilled laborers in New York out of which they have to pay $180 a year for their small rooms. This is about one-third of their total income. In Paris unskilled workmen earn $450 per year on the average, but their rents are only $60 for three or four rooms. That is only a fifth of their earnings. We feel in France that the rent should not take more than one-fifth of the earnings."

GUARD HURLED BENEATH TRAIN

U. S. Private Ground to Death
While on Duty on Rear
Coach.

DENVER, July 17.—John Sanders, a private in Company K, 18th U. S. Infantry, while standing guard at the rear car platform on a Colorado and Southern train transporting soldiers of the maneuvers in Texas to Fort McKenzie, Wyoming, was hurled under the train and killed near Wichita Falls, Texas.

The body was found later by the trackmen and placed on a second division of the army train and brought to Denver yesterday.

It is thought the soldier fell from the platform when the train gave a sudden lurch. He was not missed until the arrival of his body here. Sanders enlisted in the army at Fort Logan, Colorado, a little more than a year ago. His home is said to be in New York.

CHICAGO PUTS DOUBLE 'O' PHONE SYSTEM IN DISCARD

CHICAGO, July 17.—The words "double" and "O" have been stricken from the vocabulary of the Chicago Telephone operator.

Last week subscribers calling the city hall, for instance, heard the operator repeat "Main double four seven." Now all this is changed. "Main four seven" is asked in question form is now the response from the girl. Likewise the oft-repeated "Franklin seven double 'O'" has become "Franklin seven hundred."

The double "O" system in vogue in Chicago for years is said to be a relic of the past, and according to the telephone company officials the cause of many mistaken numbers.

WELLESLEY 'GRADS' SEEK TO AID MISS SHACKFORD

WELLESLEY, Mass., July 17.—Alumnae of Wellesley College in all parts of the country are signing petitions asking that Professor Matha Dale Shackford be made dean of the college. The trustees are about to undertake the selection of a successor to Miss Ellen Fitz Pendleton, who left the deanship to become president. Miss Shackford is known as an author, and has for many years been prominent in Wellesley alumni activities.

MARRIAGE LAW IS CAUSING TROUBLE

Americans Wedded in Japan
in Late Years Face Peculiar Condition.

ALBANY, Ore., July 17.—That marriages contracted by foreigners in Japan for several years after 1900 on the supposition that marriage was a religious ceremony in that country, and not a legal contract, are illegal, is indicated by the act of Fred D. Fisher, United States Consul at Mukden, evidence of whose marriage in Japan in 1902 has been received here for record.

Until 1900, because there were no civil laws affecting marriage in Japan, it was the custom for foreigners to have a religious ceremony performed, and that fact, certified to by the American consul, was sufficient for the Japanese government to pass a law mandating a civil contract, but this fact was not made known to foreigners for several years afterward.

In the meantime some forty British couples and many Americans were married by religious ceremony, the civil contract not being entered into. The United States recognizes marriages performed according to the laws of the country in which the marriage ceremony takes place, but marriages since 1900 which did not comply with the new Japanese law, are said to be of questionable validity.

BADLY COMPLICATED.

The cases are badly complicated where either of the contracting parties has died, leaving issue and where the question of inheritance is involved. It is said a valuable estate in California is involved in this manner through the death of the husband without the marriage being legalized in this country.

Fisher was married in Japan in 1902, without observing the new law, the existence of which he did not discover for four years. On his return to America in 1909, he was remarried in Albany, according to the laws of Oregon; after his return to Japan, he secured the documented evidence of the previous marriage which he desires to appear on the Linu county records, to explain the necessity for the second ceremony.

MINERS TO SEEK HIDDEN BONANZA

Famous Barclay Claim Will Be
Delved for by Fortune
Hunters.

RENO, July 17.—Colonel W. S. Prosser, a mining man of California and Nevada, together with John R. Casserly of San Francisco, son of a former United States senator and husband of one of the Gaudy heiresses, and Richard Willing of New York, prominent in politics and reform work in that city, have obtained a ten years' lease from the Sierra Nevada Wood and Lumber Company of 800 acres comprising the Hobart estate in western Nevada, on which is located the hidden Barclay mine, reputed to be of fabulous richness, and whose location is known to but one man, Bud Barclay, who, having been refused a lease by the Hobarts, has preserved his secret for a score of years. For more than fifty years this mine has been the dream of miners, and prospectors have attempted in vain to obtain leases or options on the property. The Hobarts have steadfastly refused all offers until Colonel Prosser and his associates filed the papers in the recorder's office of Washoe county.

FIVE PROSPECTORS AT WORK.

Five prospectors are now out searching every portion of the estate. The property has been platted and each man is working a certain section. The history of the fabled mine is one of the freshest tales of Nevada and California miners and generations have yearned to find the spot where the wealth of metal lies. Of late years no such opportunity has been possible, for the Hobart estate has maintained a score of guards to watch for prospectors and warn them from the ground.

It was as far back as the sixties when the first tales were circulated. An old recluse of the mountains came frequently into Washoe and Franktown and among the Indians bearing with him crosses and anchors of beaten copper. They were made of native copper and their size indicated that they were taken from a place where the metal lay in huge blocks. Many of the old residents of Washoe still retain some of these crudely made specimens.

In the seventies or eighties a man related to Barclay brought into the market a titl of pure native copper in sacks, but he, too, refused to divulge the location of the deposits. About twelve years ago one of the Bay Area men, named Wilbur, while out hunting for native copper and free gold, but the estate would not permit them to prospect freely. From all these experiences, has come the tradition that somewhere in a hidden ravine, possibly covered over by the original discoverers, who failed to get terms from the estate, are chunks of native copper as big as piano boxes and that imbedded in these is gold, free and in nugget, that makes the value $100,000 a ton.

RAILROAD BRIDGE BURNS.

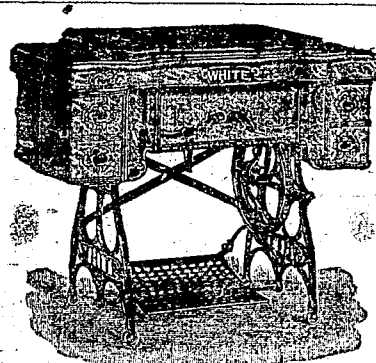

LANCASTER, Pa., July 17.—The Pennsylvania Railroad main line, over which all through passenger trains run between the East and the West, was blocked for hours last night by a burning bridge falling on the four tracks. The structure, a big wooden affair near Gap, spanned the railroad near Gap, seventeen miles east of here. It caught fire, supposedly from sparks from a locomotive.

HERMIT TORTURED BY GOLD SEEKERS

Finger Print May Lead to Discovery of James Buckalew's Assailants.

NEWARK, N. J., July 17.—The imprint of a man's thumb on a white-washed door is the clue by which the police of Belleville, N. J., expect to trace the assailant of James Buckalew, an aged hermit who some time during the last 48 hours was beaten into unconsciousness and left for dead in the kitchen of his cottage.

Whether Buckalew was robbed or not cannot be learned, unless he recovers consciousness at the hospital here, where he lies at the point of death. He was found lying across a table with his hands and feet tied and his head stuffed in an ash barrel. Buckalew is 70 years of age, and a truck farmer. He owns considerable property and is reputed to be wealthy. The police believe that after being bound he was tortured for several hours in an attempt to make him tell where his money was concealed.
